Power of Classroom Needed: Eisenhower

Stresses More Aid Essential Training Youth To Help Nation

Washington, April 5 (AP)—President Eisenhower, stressing need for more classrooms, says America's schools are "more powerful even than the energy of the atom" and more important than guided missiles.

The President put it that way last night in a new appeal for congressional approval of the administration's school construction program.

Essential to Peace
In an address at the centennial dinner of the National Education Assn. and to a nationwide radio audience, Eisenhower linked school training of the nation's youth to the quest for enduring world peace.

"The hope of the world," he said, "is that wisdom can resolve conflict between brothers. I believe that war is the deadly harvest of arrogant and unreasoning minds."

But the strength of America's arms, Eisenhower said, always is related to the strength of the minds of its people.

"Our schools are strong points in our national defense," Eisenhower said. "Our schools are more important than our Nike batteries, more necessary than our radar warning nets, and more powerful even than the energy of the atom."

Trained Minds Needed
"This is true, if for no other reason than that modern weapons must be manned by highly educated personnel if they are to be effective, and the energy of the atom can only be understood and developed by the most highly trained minds in the country."

The President's audience of about 1,200 educators at the Sheraton Park Hotel here listened in solemn silence during his 15-minute talk, but gave him a big ovation when he was introduced and at the conclusion of his address.

Fate Remains in Doubt
Eisenhower sounded his new appeal for action a few hours after the first step in Congress toward easing the classroom shortage.

A House education subcommittee yesterday approved, by a 6-1 vote, a bill to authorize a five-year, two billion dollar program of federal grants to help the states build schools.

The bill, scheduled to go before the Senate, would provide for a total of $17 million for the program.

Implied in the committee's action was an understanding that the department would not put into effect tomorrow sharp service cutbacks which Postmaster General Summerfield had said would be ordered if extra money was not provided at once.

The department has requested Congress to give it an extra 47 million dollars for the next three months. An appropriations subcommittee approved 17 millions of the request last Wednesday.

Summerfield said that was inadequate, and announced that starting tomorrow he would order such steps as to halt city and rural mail deliveries on Saturdays and stop selling money orders.

He has said unforeseen expenses stemmed from increased mail volume and the need to serve expanding residential areas.

When the appropriations committee met today to consider the annual money bill for the commerce department, most Republicans and some Democrats favored immediate action on the Post Office funds, but a motion to consider the matter was ruled out of order.

Finally, however, after a reportedly tempestuous session, the committee agreed to notify Summerfield he could count on at least 17 million dollars and that the committee would consider how much more, if any, to

Angry Judge Challenges Van Duser on O&W Move

New York, April 5 (AP)—Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan, his voice shaking in anger, has challenged a state legislator to produce any evidence he might have of anything wrong in the liquidation of the bankrupt New York, Ontario & Western Railroad.

Asks for Evidence
Ryan, who had ordered the railroad closed down last Friday night, called on Van Duser yesterday to come into court and present any evidence of discrepancy in the management or financing of the NYO&W.

Liquidation of the railroad, which had been in bankruptcy for 20 years, is under control of the Federal Court.

Ryan made his heated remarks at the opening of a hearing on an application by attorneys for the Hanover Bank, trustee of the NYO&W, for an order permitting sale of 46 diesel engines owned by the line. The trustee bank is separate from the receivers, who have been in charge of the railroad under Federal Court control.

Last Monday, Van Duser said that Republican legislators represent ing communities along the NYO&W were "setting up a watchdog committee to confer from time to time to discover any discrepancy in management or financing." He did not mention any knowledge of malfeasance.

Cites Obligation
Ryan, who quoted from a story from Albany on the Van Duser announcement, said yesterday: "I do not know whether Mr. Van Duser is a member of the bar or not. But if he is, he is under an obligation to this court to disclose to it any evidence he might have of any wrongdoing regarding the closedown of the road."

Ryan continued: "We might proceed to find out if this man is making such statements to gain publicity for himself, or to gain political advantage, or has anything concrete. He might be subpoenaed to appear before this court or the U. S. attorney, because the U. S. attorney is charged with investigation of any violations of law in the administration of this railroad."

Calls for Letter
"However, I do not think this court should dignify him by subpoenaing him for an appearance before a grand jury or the court. But I do think, and I direct, that

Tax Commission Rules: Sickness, Disability Benefits Are Exempt

Albany, N. Y., April 5 (AP)—Sickness disability benefits are exempt from the state income tax.

The State Tax Commission ruled yesterday that benefits paid in 1956 under any accident or health plan maintained and financed by an employer can be subtracted from gross income to be reported on returns due a week from Monday. This can be done even by taxpayers taking the standard $500 deduction.

Can Claim Refunds
Also, taxpayers can claim refunds for taxes paid on such benefits received in 1954 or 1955. They will have to hurry, though, to get the 1954 refund. Claims must be filed by April 15, 1957.

Tax Commissioner George M. Bragalin said the ruling would cost the state millions of dollars. It takes in all benefits paid by employers under a formal plan. Sick leave pay received by him at a meeting next Friday.

Chairman Cannon (D-Mo.) told newsmen it would be up to the full committee to decide how much money to appropriate. Indications were that a majority of members favored more than 17 millions although not the entire 47 millions Summerfield seeks.

Members favoring formal action today were unable to muster the two-thirds vote necessary to suspend the rules so the committee could consider matters other than the commerce appropriation. However, they had a majority that prevented adjournment until a compromise was worked out.

New Soviet Nuclear Test Is Seventh Since Last August

London, April 5 (AP)—The Russians carried out another nuclear test Wednesday, the British Defense Ministry announced.

It was the seventh Soviet test reported since last August, when the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission announced the start of a Russian test series.

The AEC announced the sixth explosion on March 9, saying it had occurred the day before.

The 10-word British announcement gave no details of the type or size of the latest explosion. It said only:

"The Soviet Union carried out another nuclear test on Wednesday."

Earlier this week the Russians rejected a Japanese appeal to suspend test explosions. Soviet foreign ministry press chief

Second Man Is Held for Grand Jury Two Charged With Tobacco Thefts

Michael Christoforo, 20, of 54 Yeomans street, who with Lester Green, 31, of 47 East Union street, was arrested Sunday on a third degree burglary charge for alleged theft of cigarettes and cigars, was held for the grand jury after preliminary hearing today before City Judge Raymond J. Mino.

Green waived examination and was held for the grand jury Monday.

$750 Cache Found
Police said the two were traced to a point where an estimated $750 worth of cigarettes and cigars had been hidden off Chapel street in Wilbur. The merchandise was said to be that taken from Remus Wholesale, 55 Furnace street last month.

Judge Mino assigned Attorney Francis Martorelli to represent Christoforo at the hearing today. Robert A. MacKinnon appeared for the district attorney's office.

Officers Arrest Two
Police had obtained information indicating that the missing merchandise was in the Wilbur area. Several officers, many of them off duty, patrolled the area over last weekend, and Deputy Chief Robert F. Murphy commended them for their work.

A car was trailed to the Chapel street area, not far from where the merchandise was recovered, and the two were arrested.

Remus Wholesale was reported entered over the weekend of March 16 through the breaking of a glass in a door window, and it was believed that the merchandise was removed in a large car or truck.

Authorities have been investigating to determine if the two were involved in other local thefts, but, to date, nothing has developed.

Claims Stone Forced Out
New York, April 5 (AP)—An attorney for James R. Stone, resigned member of the State Parole Commission, said today "persuasion forced him to resign."

Stone resigned the $15,900-a-year job last weekend after an investigation was begun into his dismissal of parole violation charges against Joseph (Socks) Lanza, former Fulton Fish Market racketeer.

Stone's attorney, Matthew H. Brandenburg, talked with newsmen after a hearing into the matter by the Joint Legislative (Watchdog) Committee on Government Affairs was adjourned until April 13.

Speaking of Stone's resignation, Brandenburg said: "I don't know whether it was the right thing to do. I don't know whether he has the right to be reinstated. It was something forced on Mr. Stone."

Asked who forced the resignation, Brandenburg said "persuasion forced him to resign," but he gave no indication of who might have done the persuading.

Told that some legislative leaders feel "powerful" forces influenced the decision on Lanza, Brandenburg said:

"As far as I'm concerned, (Continued on Page 6, Col. 6)

Priest Russia Sent Home to Address KC

A priest, who was the only American chaplain in Moscow in 1953, will be the speaker at Sunday's communion breakfast of Kingston Council 275, Knights of Columbus.

The Rev. Georges Bissonnette has been invited in place of the Rev. Msgr. Robert McCormick, whose illness prevents his presence at the breakfast in the K. of C. home, Broadway and Andrew street.

Father Bissonnette was expelled from Russia in 1955, presumably in retaliation for American refusal of a visa to Archbishop Boris.

Tickets are still available for the breakfast, which will be held after the Knights receive Holy Communion at the 7:30 a. m. Mass in St. Joseph's Church.

Seeking New Pipe For Water Main On Arterial Route

Replacement of a section of older type, uptown water main will be sought in conjunction with construction of the city's arterial route system, it was decided at a meeting of the water board last night.

It was noted that an estimated 1,000 feet of six-inch main, from 30 to 40 years old, exists in an area where the arterial spur will connect with city traffic, and the board decided to request the New York State Public Works Department to replace the older line with larger pipe.

The section involved would be generally in the triangular area formed by Broadway, Albany avenue and East St. James street. A traffic interchange system will be built there, and the thruway spur will extend northward to an interchange circle near Route 28 and the thruway.

The board felt that replacement of the old water line would improve fire protection in the area, would generally benefit

Crowded Conditions One Bar, Uncertain Consolidation 2nd

Requests from two outlying school districts to admit pupils to the local school system for the year 1957-58 were refused Thursday night by the Kingston Board of Education.

The requests came from Rosendale School District No. 3 (Creek Locks) and Esopus No. 14 (Connelly).

Creek Locks asked to admit 50 children in kindergarten through grade 8 and Connelly 14 children in kindergarten through grade 6.

Reasons Given
The board denied the request due to crowded conditions in the Kingston school system and the general uncertainty in connection with the proposed Greater Kingston Area Consolidation.

The pros and cons of admission of such pupils were discussed by board members, Dr. Earl Soper, superintendent of schools, and Assistant Superintendent Robert Macdonald at some length.

Where They'd Go
It was pointed out that Kingston was now taking a number of elementary school children from outlying districts. However, in case of consolidation, it was suggested, Connelly would "logically go" to the Port Ewen school. The Connelly children could be put into School No. 3 in Kingston, it was suggested, and the Creek Locks children into School 2, but there were certain objections which rendered such a decision infeasible.

For example, school authorities hope to "ease" Schools 4, 5 and 6 next school year sending some of their pupils to Schools 2 and 3. Admission of additional pupils to School 7 would "create a problem." Also, in case of a possible overflow at School 2 there would be no additional rooms in that school to handle it.

Tight at GW School
The situation at the George Washington School was described as "tight all the way."

It was the consensus of the board that although Kingston schools might be able to handle the Connelly and Creek Locks pupils next year the local school system might find itself in an increasingly cramped and difficult position in ensuing years as school population continued to grow.

It was pointed out also that if outlying districts should vote against consolidation the State Board of Education would have to deal with the situation.

State Gets 8-Inch Snowstorm
County Has 9 Injuries In Hazardous Driving

Nine persons were injured — one seriously — in Ulster county vehicular accidents reported by area state police Thursday as spring reverted to winter and an unseasonal storm covered parts of New York state with an eight-inch mantle of snow.

The storm, which began shortly after 2 p. m. turned to a heavy rain early Thursday evening, but not before it produced hazardous driving conditions and traffic snarls on some main highways.

Those Injured
Injured and removed to Benedictine Hospital were: Albertine Fillion, 46, of Montreal, Canada, injuries not listed, reported "fair" today.

Robert Moser, 30, of 30 Finger street, Saugerties; lacerations, cuts, bruises and contusions. His condition was listed as "fair" today.

Warren Mickle, 14, of Saxon, lacerations of the face and a possible skull injury, also reported in "fair" condition.

Ernest Gilbert, 48, of Montreal, Canada, lacerations, contusions; listed today in "serious" condition.

Oscar Fillion, 17, also of Montreal, possible neck injury; condition reported "good."

School Bus in Collision
Kingston state police reported at 6:15 p. m. that a 1951 sedan, operated by Albertine Fillion, was in collision with a 1956 carryall, owned by Saugerties Central School, and operated by Mr. Moser, on Route 32, Quarryville.

Troopers said the Fillion car, headed south, went into a skid on the snowy pavement, and collided with the school bus, traveling north. Young Mickle was a passenger in the school bus, it was reported.

Ellenville state police reported at 3:30 p. m. that a 1953 sedan, owned by Mrs. Nolan, and operated by Mr. Nolan, was in collision with a 1951 pickup, owned by Herbert Daniels and operated by Andrew Davis, 68, of Church street, Napanoch, in the town of Wawarsing at the

Hearing Is Scheduled On May 16

Teaching Costs Are Up $210,000

A tentative budget of $2,787,180 for the year 1957-58 was approved Thursday night by the Kingston Board of Education—with a tax rate of $27.80 per thousand.

The tax rate is $3.56 per thousand less than last year's rate of $31.36.

The tentative appropriation, however, is $138,248 more than 1956-57 when it totaled $2,648,932.

The tentative amount to be raised by local property taxes is $1,130,364. The rest is derived from state aid tuition from outlying districts, etc.

Hearing May 16
A public hearing on the proposed budget will be held at 8 p. m. Thursday, May 16, in the Kingston High School auditorium.

The tax rate is lower due to last year's reassessment program which increased the assessed valuation of property in the city from $33,491,535 to $40,660,611.

More for Instruction
The largest increase in the tentative budget is to be found in the item listed as "Instructional Services" — $1,739,871, about 80 per cent of which is composed of salaries. This item increased approximately $210,000 over 1956-57.

There were also reductions in certain items—not enough, however, to offset the appropriation for instructional increases.

The budget lists $825,945 for salaries of teachers in kindergarten through sixth grade and $823,055 for teachers in grades 7-12.

Summary of Budget
The tentative budget breaks down as follows:

General control, $71,604.85; instructional services, $1,739,871.96; operation of plant, $136,138; maintenance of plant, $81,868.77; auxiliary agencies, $102,610; fixed charges, $253,590.79—all totaling $2,445,680.37 in current expenses.

Also, debt service, $227,000; capital outlay, $109,500, and contingent fund, $5,000.

The board voted to advertise the public hearing on the budget in The Freeman on April 9, 12 and 15.

Dr. Earl F. Soper, superintendent of schools, reported that the city planning board had orally approved the site at Dietz Stadium on which the new junior high school is to be constructed.

He announced also that the informational meeting at School 5 Tuesday night, at which members of the Kingston Board of Education discussed various aspects of the proposed school—and the need for its construction—had gotten the series of scheduled meetings off to a good start.

Next Meeting Tuesday
The next informational meeting will be held at 8 p. m. Tuesday at the George Washington School.

Dr. Soper said he felt that the very fact members of the board were on the panel "carrying the ball" would win many

12 Democratic Supervisors Will Ask Action on College

A resolution asking action toward establishing a Community College in the county will be presented by Democratic members of the Board of Supervisors at its April 11 meeting, it was announced today.

The resolution, signed by 12 Democratic supervisors, asks appointment of a bi-partisan committee to consider plans for "early establishment" of the proposed college.

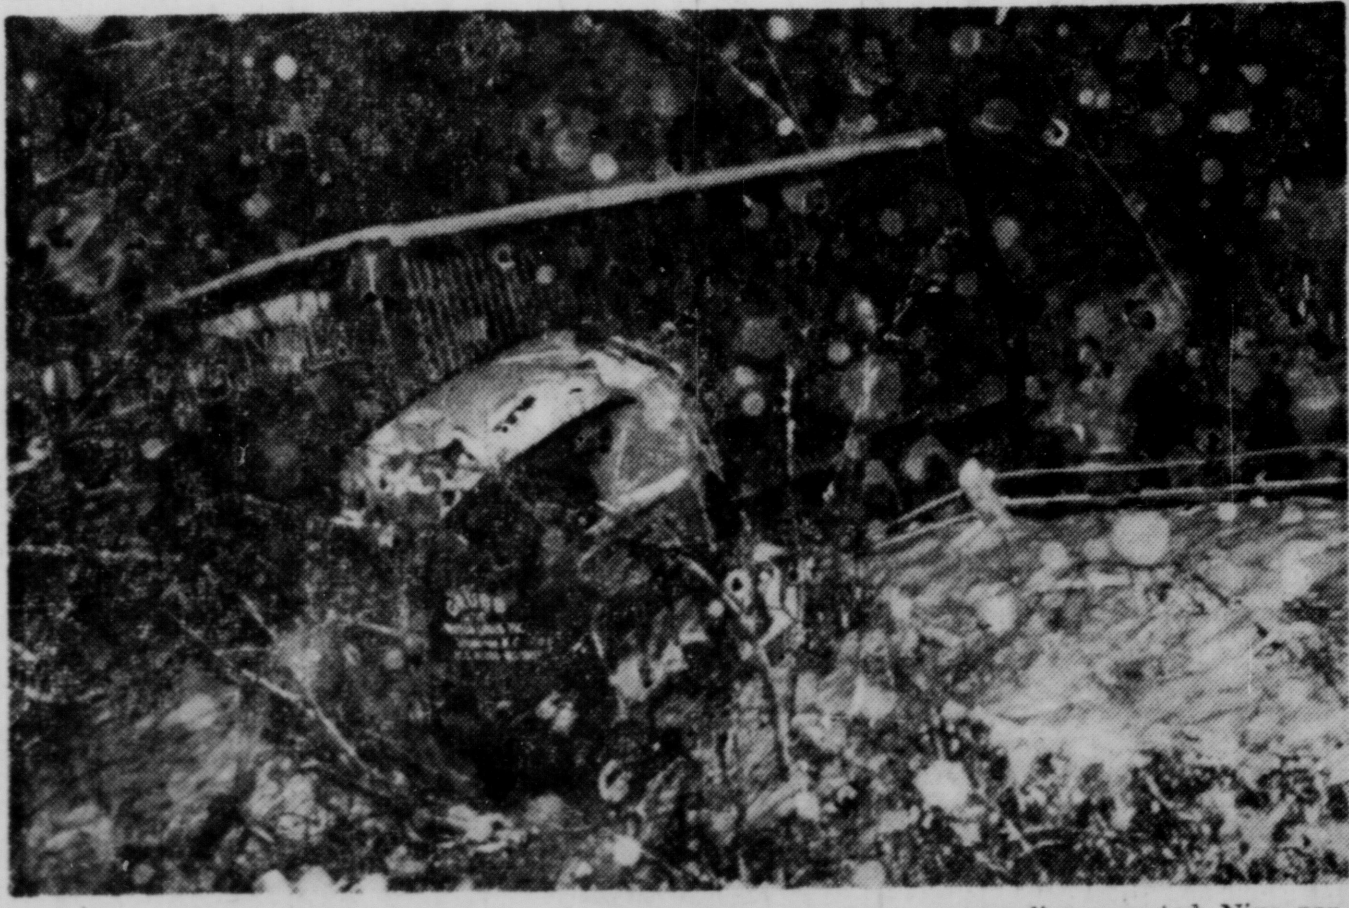

It was signed by supervisors, John J. Gaffney, the board's Democratic floor leader, Francis J. Dougherty, George Mollenhauer, James J. Carroll, Christopher Perry, Jr., Joseph J. Turck, James P. Fiore, Thomas F. Coughlin, Francis G. Clarke, James F. Howard, Jr., Burtho H. Marshall and John C. Quimby.

The resolution notes that "there apparently exists many excellent reasons for the promulgation of plans for the creation of such a Community College."

Presented first last March 14 at a meeting of the supervisors by Harry Rigby, Jr., of Kingston, the proposal has been discussed since then. Rigby said he represented a countywide group, which included the Kiwanis, Lions and Rotary clubs.

Dr. Lawrence L. Jarvie, dean of the University of the State of New York, addressed an interested group at the court house March 18, and it was later indicated that facilities at the Onteora School, Boiceville, could be used for the college.

Supervisors were among the group at the March 18 discussion and among them were Gaffney, the Democratic leader; Jesse McHugh, the Republican floor leader; and Charles Relyea, the board's chairman.

SKIDS DURING SNOWSTORM — Arthur Coleman, 42, of Lexington, N. C., escaped injury Thursday at 5:45 p. m. when the tractor trailer he was driving on Route 32, East Kingston, skidded on a downgrade and went off an embankment. Kingston state police reported. Nine persons were injured—one seriously—in vehicular accidents in the area which was covered by six inches of snow, state police reported. (Freeman photo.)

Hunt Circus Will Play Here June 17 For Scout Benefit

Circus day in Kingston is Monday, June 17, when Hunt Brothers will play two shows for a Boy Scout benefit.

Henry P. Eighmey, chairman of the fund committee for Rip Van Winkle Council Boy Scout Camp, on Thursday signed contracts for the circus to give afternoon and night performances at Dietz Stadium parking grounds.

Drew Crowds in 1956

Last year, the circus drew large crowds here on its first date to help the Camp Tri-Mount building fund.

"We hope," Mr. Eighmey said, "the program has a lot of new acts and added features. The agent said it now enjoys the distinction of being the second largest in the world."

The Camp Tri-Mount fund is entirely outside of the financial arrangements whereby the Red Feather Chest aids Scouting, Mr. Eighmey said.

The ardent local Scouter is a personal friend of Charles T. Hunt, a native of Kingston, who started out with a few wagons 64 years ago, pushed his way to the top of the circus world, weathering financial storms that saw other shows fold their canopies for good.

Example of Courage

"The story of Charles Hunt is one of courage and hard work," said Mr. Eighmey, "and a real lesson in what can be accomplished by planning."

The 83-year-old circus veteran likes to visit with friends here and always books Monday dates so he can roll in Sunday mornings and make a weekend of it.

Must Sell in Advance

Tickets will be available starting this week, Chairman Eighmey said. He plans placing them in stores and offices throughout the area serviced by Rip Van Winkle Council and Camp Tri-Mount. They may be had also from adult scout leaders in Ulster and Greene counties.

Mr. Eighmey pointed out that tickets must be bought in advance from the Scout agents in order to take advantage of a more attractive percentage figure. "We do not do as well on tickets sold at the box office," he said in urging that circusgoers make their purchases before circus day.

To Study Conditions At Mental Hospitals

New York, April 5 (AP)—A group of private citizens has formed an organization whose members will visit and study conditions at New York state's 27 mental hospitals.

Formation of the group was announced last night at the annual meeting of the State Society for Mental Health. It will be known as the New York State Citizens' Advisory Group for State Mental Hospitals and Schools.

Mrs. Donald Agnew, president of the State Society for Mental Health, termed the formation of the volunteer agency "an important idea."

Dr. Paul H. Hoch, state commissioner of mental hygiene, commented: "This is one of the best ways we know to combat the fears of mental institutions that so many people have."

State institutions now have some 115,000 patients.

The advisory group, composed of teams of visitors, will make observations at various hospitals and schools and relay its information to various social agencies and the Mental Hygiene Department.

BABSON on BUSINESS

Babson Discusses Bankers and Investments

Babson Park, Mass., April 4—I have great respect for bankers.

My father was a country banker in Gloucester, Mass. It is safe to trust a banker for the protection of your deposit. His first and foremost aim is to protect the money which you leave with him. Based on my large acquaintance with leading bankers all over the world, I unequivocally support their 100 per cent desire to protect your savings.

Furthermore, barring the ravages of war over which they have no control, they will give you back every dollar you deposit with them. Never criticize a banker for refusing to make a loan.

When you draw your dollars out of a bank, whether your dollars will buy as much in food, clothing, and shelter as they would have when you put them in is another question. The bankers have little control over what your dollars will buy in the future. It, however, is only fair to say that the bankers are fighting inflation in every possible way. Inflation hurts not only the value of your deposits but also the value of every bond which the bank holds!

Furthermore, it should be remembered that a banker should naturally be conservative. It is said that only one thing is more easily frightened than a banker—namely, a "pair of bankers." Bankers brag of their deposits; but the greater their deposits, the more they owe! In their hearts they realize that deposits represent debts. The depositors sit in the driver's seat. The depositors of any bank could close the bank in one week. Hence, I repeat we should not blame bankers for being cautious.

Investment Advice

Bankers may be making a mistake associating so much with other bankers. Instead of attending Bankers' Conventions, they perhaps should attend conventions of physicists, chemists, and other scientists. Instead of asking the advice of other bankers who are remembering 1929, they should perhaps ask the advice of those who are looking into the future rather than the past.

If you ask some bankers for investment advice, they look up the company in an investment manual and study only its balance sheets and earnings statements. They ask to see the accountant's audit. Yet, accountants are only students of the past. Their business is to make autopsies—not forecasts. Accountants may be classified as "undertakers," not as "doctors."

In my humble judgment, the president of a bank should be a graduate of some highly professional school, such as the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, if he is to give investment advice. He needs to know what is ahead, the wonders which are now on drawing boards and in test tubes.

He should read scientific journals and associate with men who are acquainted with the wonderful changes which will come about during the next 50 years. Furthermore, there should be more "egg-heads" on bank boards of directors, whose knowledge is not limited to existing industries.

Think Back 50 Years

Fifty years ago, the telephone companies had comparatively few subscribers. There were only 130,000 automobiles compared with 54,000,000 today. Then there were no radios, televisions, electric refrigerators or stoves, and only a few chain stores. Over half our present national income and wages come from industries not even dreamed of 50 years ago.

My first job was surveying for a horse car line in Gloucester, Mass. A half century ago this changed to an electric car line, and now the tracks have been ripped up and busses provide the only public transportation. My second job was as bookkeeper for Andrew's Spar Yard, which brought great spars from Oregon to serve as masts for the fishing vessels. The chief industry of Cape Ann was making paving stones. These industries have now vanished.

What About the Dow-Jones Averages?

These averages will soon become obsolete, as are horse cars, the Oregon masts, and the paving blocks. The Dow-Jones averages which so many bankers now worship are only tombstones of fading great industries.

These "averages" will be eroded and declined, while the basic wealth of our nation—barring war—will continue to climb higher and higher.

BUT HOW THEY ROLL OUT THE RED CARPET FOR ANY NEW DUNKER WHO FALLS IN FOR THE FIRST TIME!!

Briefly Told

Utica, N. Y., April 5 (P)—A motorist stopped his car, jumped out and used his coat to smother the flaming clothing of a 9-year-old girl yesterday, police reported.

Patricia Butler ran into the street after a stove in her home set fire to her clothes. Daniel Murphy, 38, of Utica, a father of four, who was driving by smothered the flames.

A doctor said the girl suffered first, second and third-degree burns. He reported her condition as serious.

Canastota, N. Y., April 5 (P)—Mrs. Mildred James, 44, was burned fatally yesterday when her clothing caught fire as she was cooking in the kitchen of her home.

Her husband, Edward, returned home from work to find his wife lying unconscious on the bathroom floor. Police said Mrs. James apparently collapsed in the bathroom while trying to extinguish the fire in her clothing with water.

She died in a hospital.

Albany, N. Y., April 5 (P)—A monopoly and anti-trust action brought by a local motion picture theatre against major film distributors was settled yesterday for an undisclosed amount.

The Capital City Theatre Corp., former operator of the Eagle Theatre in Albany, had claimed $350,000 damages in Federal District Court from 22 distributors.

The suit, brought two years ago, charged the distributors had restricted the availability of films between July 1, 1944 and April 1, 1951, when the firm discontinued operation of the theatre.

The firm said that it had been prevented from presenting box office attractions and alleged monopoly in restraint of trade.

Albany, N. Y., April 5 (P)—Next Sunday will be "World Health Day" in New York state.

In a proclamation yesterday, Gov. Harriman called on New Yorkers to "give thought on this occasion to world health needs and to the part each of us can play in improving human welfare."

Malone, N. Y., April 5 (P)—A family of 15 who have wandered the world for the last five years say they want to go back to Australia.

Thomas Williams, 57, head of the group awaiting a deportation hearing today, said the three men of the family hope to be given permission to work and earn their passage back.

He said they had job offers from friends in Montreal and from his sister in Chicago. He did not give her name.

Williams and his two stepsons do automobile body repair work. Their three trailers have been parked here for nine days.

The families entered the U. S. from Canada last fall. The U. S. border patrol says they are subject to deportation on the ground that they worked in this country while here on visitors' permits.

Jamestown, April 5 (P)—Ronald G. Knoll, 19, of Falconer, a railroad worker since Feb. 13, was crushed to death early today between a freight car and a loading platform at the Art Metal Construction Co.

Coroner Samuel T. Bowers of Chautauque county said Knoll, who was standing on a ladder at one end of the car, was killed when the car leaned against the platform after it became derailed at a switch. Bowers issued a verdict of accidental death.

Knoll was employed by the Erie railroad as a helper.

Harrisville, April 5 (P)—A local union says 175 workers idled in a wage dispute have turned down a wage boost of six cents an hour offered by the St. Regis Paper Co.

Local 147 of the Paper Workers Union said yesterday the men had been locked out since March 25. The union asks a 12-cent increase.

The company said the mill was closed because of lack of business.

The union, which said the men were willing to continue on their jobs until negotiations were completed, said the basic hourly wage was $1.45.

Lake George, N. Y., April 5 (P)—Joseph Ramson, 32, was sought today on a charge of kidnapping his 9-year-old son from his estranged wife's home.

Dist. Atty. Robert J. Nolan of Warren county said yesterday that Mrs. Ramson had been awarded temporary custody of the boy pending outcome of divorce proceedings.

Nolan said Ramson took the boy Wednesday night. He said state police were asked to aid in the search for Ramson.

A "John Doe" warrant charging kidnapping was issued yesterday by Peace Justice John Dier, the district attorney said.

Troy, N. Y., April 5 (P)—Police today sought John L. Wilbourn of Troy, a 25-year-old Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute graduate student who disappeared from the campus Sunday.

An RPI spokesman said yesterday that Wilbourn, an assistant in physics, left his wallet behind when he disappeared. The spokesman said Wilbourn taught several classes and was a "good" student.

Wilbourn's disappearance was reported to institute authorities yesterday by a roommate, Richard Koepcke, also of Troy.

Wilbourn's father, John, lives in Hyannis, Mass. His mother is in Florida.

Wexler's Hotel Burns At South Fallsburg

South Fallsburg, April 5 (P)—Fire last night destroyed the 30-room main building of Wexler's Columbia Hotel and a bungalow on the grounds.

There was no immediate estimate of damage to the three-story structure. No one was injured.

The blaze broke out around 5 p. m. and was termed under control two hours later.

A caretaker said he believed the fire started from a gas heater on the top floor of the main building.

Defunct 'Eagle' Must Arbitrate Severance Claim

Albany, N. Y., April 5 (P)—The Court of Appeals Thursday ordered the publishers of the defunct Brooklyn Eagle to arbitrate demands of the Newspaper Guild of New York for severance and other pay.

The state's highest tribunal, by a 5-2 vote, upheld a lower court decision compelling the Eagle to submit the demands of its former employees to arbitration.

Folded in 1955

The Eagle had appealed portions of an Appellate division ruling directing it to arbitrate claims for severance and notice-of-dismissal pay, arguing that the Guild had voided its contract with the paper when it struck on Jan. 28, 1955.

The newspaper suspended publication the day after the strike and later folded operations entirely.

The State Supreme Court had held that the publishers had to arbitrate claims for overtime, holiday and vacation pay but not for severance and notice-of-dismissal pay. The Appellate division subsequently ruled that all demands must be submitted to arbitration.

The Eagle did not contest the order regarding overtime holiday and vacation pay. The court action revolved around a "status quo" clause in the contract, which expired Nov. 29, 1954. The clause stipulated that either party might give notice of intention to seek a change in the agreement not less than 60 days and no more than 90 days before expiration.

Child Confidence Needed in Fight On Delinquency

"Footballs of fate" was the term applied to juvenile delinquents by Kiwanis Lieutenant Governor Rev. Robert S. Jones of Port Jervis in an address delivered before the noon luncheon of the Kingston Kiwanis Club Thursday.

The speaker traced the pattern of the Kiwanis slogan—"To Build"—through the medium of community interests, with special emphasis on the interests of the younger people of a community. He depicted the spirit of Kiwanians throughout the world and stressed the "supreme importance of interest in children and the cultivation of the confidence of a little child."

Lieutenant Governor Jones further elaborated on the subject of service to the children by portraying Kiwanis efforts as "doing something towards building society and destroying juvenile delinquency." In mentioning this idea, the speaker suggested that in many cases juvenile delinquency was really a case of "parental delinquency" which could become a concern of Kiwanians.

Coming Events
Kiwanis President H. Van Darrow revealed that future plans for the local club include promotion of "Open House Week" at Walkkill State Prison, entertainment of the Kingston, Ontario, Canada, Kiwanians in May, attendance at the regional convention near Monticello in September, and the promotion of a "helping-hand" booth locally for Kiwanians travelling from all parts of the state to the regional convention.

AS RUSSIA SOWS . . .

President Eisenhower wants peace deeply. But he has never pretended it could be gained by buckling before the arrogant threats of tyrannical communism.

We are hearing fresh threats these days. The Soviet Union warns France and Israel that if they should move against Egypt again a broad Middle Eastern conflict might result.

Norway, Japan and Denmark are told that if they allow atomic bases to be established on their soil they will be annihilated in event of war.

The President rightly denounces Russia for these menacing gestures. As he notes, Japan, Norway, Denmark and their counterparts in Asia and Europe have a perfect right to take what measures they wish for defense, to join in such defensive arrangements as they deem wise and proper.

The Russians lately have been remarkably casual in dispensing threats of destruction far and wide. Of course they are old hands at bullying. But never before have they brandished nuclear weapons so freely.

Despite his obviously intense urge to achieve durable peace, Mr. Eisenhower would be fully warranted—and would not be out of character—if he should firmly remind the Soviet Union that in any future war the devastation would not be limited to communism's enemies.

As a matter of fact, there is a very powerful chance that in such an event Russia would be pulverized as few nations ever have been leveled in earlier combat. In the unlikely event that the ruthless men of the Kremlin survived the holocaust, they would live only to preside over mountains of radioactive rubble.

We and our friends abroad have no sane course to pursue except to advance our plans for mutual defense, regardless of Soviet threat. Our security is to be found in unity of purpose in action. For any of us to bend to threat is to weaken that unity, which is, of course, the Soviet objective.

Standing together, we can make clear to Moscow in searing terms that no ruin it can promise will match that it will inherit if it dares move against free men with full force. What it reaps will far over-balance what it can sow.

INVESTMENT IN HOPE

In the world of childhood, running and jumping are as natural as breathing. That is one of the reasons why children at play are among the pleasantest sights on earth. They run and leap, doing what comes naturally, and it is a joy to watch them.

Yet some children do not run and leap; some do not even walk. They can only watch hungrily while the other children do this natural thing of running and leaping. They are the crippled—some crippled from birth, some by accident, some by disease. They smile bravely, and enter into the other children's play as much as they can, but the full heritage of childhood is denied them.

Adults have it in their power to restore a part of their heritage, if only by easing some of the heartaches. The money they give for Easter Seals buys crutches and braces, medical care, in some cases a chance for a crippled child to spend some time at a summer camp with other children. More than that, it is an investment in hope and courage.

PRaise IN REMEMBRANCE

It is difficult to think of anything fresh and revealing to say about the work of the Red Cross. Millions of words have been spoken and written, down through the years, in praise of that organization whose ministering hand reaches out to all the world.

Perhaps there is no need to say something fresh and new. Perhaps it is enough to say: "Remember what the Red Cross has done for suffering humanity. Such remembrance is praise enough."

The Red Cross has served in a thousand ways, both in peacetime and in time of

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

VERITAS

There is quite a fuss among the Harvard alumni over the choice of Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer as the deliverer of the 1957 William James lectures. Dr. Oppenheimer, long associated with atomic fission, testifying concerning himself and friends and colleagues as Communist affiliations, admitted that he had not told the truth. The Atomic Energy Commission, in a report signed by Lewis L. Strauss, Chairman, and Eugene M. Zuckert and Joseph Campbell, Commissioners, stated:

"... We find Dr. Oppenheimer is not entitled to the continued confidence of the Government and of this Commission because of the proof of fundamental defects in his character."

"In respect to the criterion of 'associations,' we find that his associations with persons known to him to be Communists have extended far beyond the tolerable limits of prudence and self-restraint which are to be expected of one holding the high positions that the Government has continuously entrusted to him since 1942. These associations have lasted too long to be justified as merely the intermittent and accidental revival of earlier friendships."

So a group of Harvard alumni, in Boston and New York, organized the Harvard "Veritas" Committee to arouse other alumni and public opinion generally to oppose Dr. Oppenheimer as a Harvard lecturer. The William James lectures on philosophy are supposed to be identified with ethics and wisdom. But William James has been identified with pragmatism, which philosophers of other schools rarely admit is an ethical view of life.

At any rate, the Harvard "Veritas" Committee has accepted Harvard's slogan, "Veritas," meaning Truth, as their motto. Their point is that there is no truth in Dr. Oppenheimer. Before this committee was organized, an alumnus, Kenneth D. Robertson, '29, entered upon considerable correspondence with Federal Judge Charles E. Wyzanski, '27, who is Chairman of the Board of Harvard Overseers.

I have read this correspondence which runs to many pages and it would seem that Judge Wyzanski lost his temper and threatened to sue Robertson if the latter made Wyzanski's correspondence public. This Robertson did and Wyzanski, so far as I know, has not sued. The Veritas Committee is making this exchange of correspondence available. True, it must be very embarrassing to the learned judge to have his letters read by the hoi polloi because he does not argue too well but pontificate.

Most Americans dislike a big shot taking advantage, particularly of a situation to which the people elevated him. Harry Truman's remarks on his bad blood with Ike show Harry in a better light, because a President who refused to be polite to an ex-President is taking advantage of a man who has no way to fight back. Besides, by all the rules of politics, Eisenhower owes Truman a debt of gratitude, to repay which a dish of scrambled eggs and bacon, with toast and marmalade and good coffee, is not asking too much. Truman, however, does not play golf, his specialty being Mozart.

However, to get back to the Veritas Committee, the likelihood is that the Oppenheimer lectures will take place, in English or Sanscrit, and that numerous scholars will attend and applaud. The mood has changed and even at Columbia University, which is fairly conservative compared to Harvard, the John Dewey Society invited John Gates, the editor of the "Daily Worker," to address them and another student body had Dr. Otto Nathan of New York University who, among other curious activities, is the curator of Albert Einstein's dead brain and I find it difficult to discover what he has done with the aforesaid brain or where it is or why anyone should care much about it now that the great Professor is dead and his brain can produce no more difficult to understand formulae.

However, if Columbia can have Gates and Nathan, may not Harvard have Oppenheimer or for that matter, even Earl Browder who is now a non-Marxist historian? I predict that during the next lecture season, Howard Fast, for years one of the most literate of American Communists, will be lecturing at many universities on how he freed himself from the evils of Stalinism and the curse upon the world of Stalin whom he used to adore. Even drunks hit the sawdust trail in their search for a cleansed soul and a virtuous life. Shall a Communist not be given the opportunity that every drunk has? Glory be!

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

MORE ABOUT TRICHINIASIS

Yesterday we were discussing trichiniasis, or trichinosis, a parasitic disease caused by eating raw or inadequately cooked pork infested with larvae which can grow and cause symptoms in the human body. It is a difficult disease to diagnose at first because there are no laboratory tests which will reveal it and the symptoms may be the same as in a number of other conditions. Diarrhea, nausea, vomiting and other intestinal disturbances may be recalled by the patient later when under a physician's care.

A history of eating raw or partly cooked pork, followed by an acute gastroenteritis or an acute swelling of the face, particularly involving the upper eyelids, is helpful in making the diagnosis. The parasite is rarely found in the patient's stool, blood, spinal fluid or sample of muscle so that these negative findings do not rule out trichiniasis.

The outlook (prognosis) is good in most cases, although a five per cent mortality rate has been quoted. There is no special treatment. Purgatives have been tried early in the disease in an attempt to expel the adult worms but since the disease is seldom diagnosed early enough and the worms are, by then, within the lining walls of the intestines, such agents are not effective.

Muscular pains are usually relieved by rest in bed but may require analgesics such as acetylsalicylic acid (aspirin), usually in a dosage of one to four tablets every three or four hours as prescribed, and codeine, one-quarter grain, one to four tablets every four hours as prescribed. Relief of symptoms has been reported following the use of cortisone and corticotropin.

Patients who develop bronchitis or pneumonia should be given antibiotic treatment such as penicillin or tetracycline to prevent a secondary infection from bacteria. Thereafter, treatment is according to the symptoms which develop, aimed at assisting the patient to survive the acute poisoning which terminates when the larvae have become encased in the intestinal walls.

It is very simple to prevent trichiniasis. Just be sure that fresh pork is cooked thoroughly. Also, hogs should not be fed raw garbage since it may contain infected pork wastes.

This is a fairly simple disease in that it is so easily acquired yet it may cause a great deal of suffering which is very difficult to trace to its source. When we remember that it is estimated that nearly one in every five Americans has been so infected, we should be sure that our fresh pork is thoroughly cooked.

"It's the First Time It's Ever Been Done"

Washington News

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—The constitutional amendment on presidential disability which Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. presents to Congress on behalf of the Eisenhower administration would in effect create a new government office — "Acting President of the United States."

Under the proposed amendment, the vice president would serve in this capacity while the president was incapacitated. The acting president would have full power to sign laws, ask Congress to declare war or approve the use of atomic bombs.

As soon as the president felt able to take back the number one job, however, he could do so by a declaration in writing. From then on he would again discharge the powers and duties of the office to which he was elected. The acting president would then go back to being just "Mr. Vice President."

THIS PROVISION authorizing the president to get back his job as soon as he was able to fill it is really the most important part of the proposed new constitutional amendment.

For up to now, many authorities on the Constitution have declared that once a president turned over his powers and duties to another, that president was through.

This is what prevented Presidents Wilson and Garfield from turning over their office while they were incapacitated. This is what Attorney General Brownell says must be clarified and changed.

On the first part of the proposed amendment, however, there is wide difference of opinion. This is on how a president's incapacity is to be determined.

Under the administration proposal, the president himself could declare in writing that he felt unable to handle his job. Then the vice president could take over as acting president.

If the president did not make this declaration and if he was still regarded as incapacitated, the vice president would be authorized to take over as acting president if he got approval in writing from a majority of the president's 10 Cabinet members.

BROWNELL ARGUES that the Cabinet members are the president's official family and they're in the best position to judge whether he's able to carry out his responsibilities.

Requiring a majority of the Cabinet to approve such action would put the necessary brakes on an overambitious V.P. who might want to seize power. But there is some fear that a cabal of unscrupulous officials might gang up to oust a president.

Brownell argues that if any vice president should try to seize power in defiance of public opinion he would be destroying himself politically.

ANOTHER PROPOSAL is that the Supreme Court should be given power to decide if a president is disabled. Still another is that a special commission make the decision.

One suggestion is that the three ranking Supreme Court justices, the four congressional leaders and four Cabinet officers make the decision.

A third proposal is that necessary action could be taken by an act of Congress. This could be passed and made effective this year. A constitutional amendment has to be ratified by three-fourths of the states. That might take four years.

Chairman Emanuel Celler (D-N. Y.) of the House Judiciary Committee admits there is no perfect solution. But as Rep. Kenneth B. Keating (R-N. Y.) points up, it is important that something be done and that the issue should no longer be ducked.

Congress wrestled with this problem after President Eisenhower had his heart attack in 1955. But no action was taken because it was feared political pressures would be too great in an election year.

Attorney General Brownell believes that a clarifying law on presidential incapacity and succession would not be satisfactory, as its constitutionality might be immediately challenged.

Similarly, putting Supreme Court justices on any commission to determine a president's capability would mean that those justices would be disqualified from passing on any questions of constitutionality that might arise later in court.

Harmonized Budget Views Seen in Senate-Voted Bill

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Apr. 5—By a virtually unanimous vote, the Senate has just passed a bill which, if the House of Representatives approves, may do more to harmonize the views of the executive and legislative branches of the government in the making of the federal budget than anything which has been suggested before.

For the bill would create a joint committee of fourteen members—seven from each House—who would have an adequate staff to study and evaluate all the items in the budget. It would save the time of everybody involved, because it would mean one set of hearings. It would furnish the viewpoint of all groups, including those which want to see economy practiced.

The same kind of bill has passed the Senate on different occasions in recent years only to be defeated in the House of Representatives, many of whose members traditionally feel that, since all the money bills must originate in the House, they must be given attention exclusively by its committees.

Sponsored by McClellan

Sen. John L. McClellan of Arkansas, who is chairman of the State Committee on Government Operations, has sponsored the new bill. In his report he gives many persuasive reasons for the adoption of the measure. He particularly takes cognizance of the action of the House on March 12 last in adopting a resolution requesting the President to indicate the places and the amounts in his budget where he thinks substantial reductions may best be made. This, he says, is "a clear indication that the Congress does not have adequate information upon which to act in carrying out its constitutional responsibilities for maintaining adequate controls over government expenditures."

Mr. McClellan reminded the Senate that members of Congress "have learned from contacts with the people back home that there is a tremendous ground swell of public sentiment for economy in government, and demands for action in eliminating unnecessary expenditures in the operations of the government."

But, under the existing procedures, with different appropriation committees and small staffs, it is not possible to do more than to list to witnesses from the executive branch who are morally bound to support the budget as submitted. Members of Congress have to depend on what they can pick up from the outside as to what items might really be cut.

The move just made by the Senate is in the direction of efficiency and could be the basis of some real economizing. Will the House pass the new bill or insist on the same haphazard ways that have prevailed in the past? The American people will be deeply interested in what happens to this bill in the House of Representatives. (Reproduction Rights Reserved)

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Washington, April 4—In the last few minutes of Dave Beck's examination Senator Barry Goldwater, of Arizona, asked whether he knew John C. Stevenson, attorney for a council of Teamsters' local unions in Los Angeles. Beck said he did.

Goldwater then asked whether Stevenson had ever borrowed $25,000 from the Teamsters' Union to buy a house. Beck took the Fifth Amendment. Stevenson, however, has admitted under oath that he borrowed $25,000. He did not readily remember the number of the local, but on thinking recalled that it was 174.

Stevenson formerly was known as John C. Stockman. He arrived in Seattle in the '20s from Buffalo, N. Y., where a number of indictments stood against him, in the name of Stockman, in bucket-shop transactions.

Stevenson's name turned up last fall on an application for a license filed with the California Racing Board of Hank Brewster. The vice-president of the International Union of the Teamsters and chairman of the Western Conference of Teamsters, embracing eleven states, Stevenson was Brewster's "character" sponsor.

Stevenson himself, though his declared income, like Brewster's, is modest, also has dabbled in racing stock.

Stevenson declared on oath in November, 1946 that Beck "has nothing to say about whether or not I have any contracts with me or whether they don't" for his professional services as a lawyer. But Lester Hunt, formerly editor of the big union's monthly magazine, insists that in the spring of 1942 Beck told him that he had hired Stevenson for the job of counsel for the Los Angeles locals. Mr. Hunt is now a reporter for the Indianapolis Star. He said he saw Stevenson at the 1947 convention of the international in San Francisco and that Beck told him the union "had bought him a house in Los Angeles."

Stevenson himself admitted in sworn testimony, in a divorce proceeding in Los Angeles in 1946, that he borrowed $25,000 "from the union themselves." He insisted, however, that the union took a mortgage on the spread, which consisted of a house and 12 acres, including a breeding farm for thoroughbreds which he established later in cooperation with Brewster. The purchase price was $28,000. Brewster has had at least four racing stables.

Stevenson got ten cents a member per month for some unions and five cents from others as his pay. He also had a retainer from the Building Service Workers' Union, the old George Scalise racket of the Capone phase of unionism which came into power after repeal. However, the details of this phase of his practice were only sketchily developed in the deposition so it is not clear whether or not Scalise was still in power. Some portions of the building service racket were cleaned up after Scalise went to prison, but others have resisted sanitation. A pistol murder in broad day in the Bronx in which Tommy Lewis, boss of a harness-track local, was killed, bugged a minor landslide which is now continuing in the current Senate inquiries. This murder came years after Tom Dewey had sent Scalise to Sing Sing.

Stevenson testified in the deposition that his income from the time or nickel per capita was "pretty close" to $1,750 a month. He estimated the income tax at $400 a month.

Stevenson was explicit on an episode in which he alleged that the wife who was suing him bought a De Soto car in October, 1946, primarily at the expense of a Seattle local of the Teamsters.

"When Mrs. Stevenson went up there and got the car she had one of the organizations pay for the car and put it in her own name," he said. "She not only put it over on the union. She put it over on me." He did not know the number of that local and nobody vouched for the money. He testified that later he paid for the car.

When he was asked whether he had ever borrowed from Brewster he answered: "Yes; lots of times. We have constantly loaned money and I have bought horses for him and he has done likewise for me."

There is an illustrated sign outside Stevenson's present home bearing a horse's head and the legend "Stevenson's Ha-Ha-Hacienda."

Extradition was demanded by the state of New York in the old bucket-shop indictments, but the governor of Washington refused. The indictments eventually were nullified.

Seeks to Solve Riddle

Honglulu (P) — A Honolulu doctor believes he may have solved the riddle of where the Polynesian peoples came from. He based his conclusions on his work in tracing the spread of the disease filariasis — peculiar to Polynesians. Dr. David D. Bonnet says first surveys of his evidence indicated the Polynesians were once native to the area around Borneo, and then migrated eastward as far as Hawaii. Bonnet's conclusions are based on blood samples from 1,900 natives from west of Borneo to Hawaii. Scientists have advanced various theories on the origin of the Polynesians. The raft Kon-Tiki made its famous voyage in an effort to establish migration route.

School Consolidation Explained Single Bus Transportation System Has Many Advantages

Just as the Board of Education of each district is fully responsible for providing 12 years of education for each pupil of the district, so are they responsible for providing all necessary transportation. The result is that each of the 30 existing districts

Katrine School Vote Saturday

Voters of the Lake Katrine School District will have an opportunity to vote Saturday from 3 p. m. until 9 p. m. on approval of a bond issue for playground, recreational area and parking grounds at the school.

The vote will take place at the school house. A bond issue for $60,000 is being sought for the improvement program.

Angry Judge

the attorneys for the receivers should address a letter to him immediately.

"The court opens a session here on April 10, and if there is any evidence of wrongdoing he should submit it to me in open court. And if he has the evidence of wrongdoing he should ask the permission of the U. S. attorney to appear before a grand jury and tell all he knows."

Ryan said the remarks attributed to Van Duzer "concern the integrity of this court."

Francis W. H. Adams, former New York city police commissioner who now is counsel to the NYO&W two receivers, said he would send the suggested letter to Van Duzer immediately.

There was no immediate indication of what course Van Duzer would follow.

To Sell Engines

After his remarks about Van Duzer, the judge turned to the diesel engine issue and granted the Hanover bank permission to sell the 46 engines. He indicated that the sale will be conducted in court on the basis of bids.

An attorney for the New York Central System told the judge that the central is "interested" in selling 21 of the engines for use before they are sold—probably by mid-June. The receivers said they would confer with the Central's counsel to reach an agreement.

Ryan set April 10 for hearing presentation of proof by the U. S. government on its claim of more than seven million dollars in tax liens against the NYO&W.

One of the railroad's receivers James B. Kilsheimer III, submitted to the court a brief on conditions following the shutdown. He said the shutdown was "very orderly." Although most of the railroad's employees have been let go, he said. "The receivers are still employing maintenance force and an accounting staff."

May Cut Off Water

Ivanhoe, Calif., April 5 (AP)—A federal official has threatened yesterday to cut off water unless the Ivanhoe Irrigation District joins in appealing a California State Supreme Court ruling. At issue is a ruling that the federal government can not limit water from reclamation projects to use on plots of not more than 160 acres. D. A. Dexheimer, federal reclamation commissioner, sent a telegram saying: "My instructions of Feb. 26 do not authorize continuing water delivery to Ivanhoe in event review of the case is not sought."

DINING THE MODERN WAY

Times have changed since our grandparents sat down at a large well-laden table in their big old-fashioned dining rooms. Today's modern family is likely to dine from a stream-lined dinette table with a colorful plastic top, with chairs covered in contrasting Vinyl for beauty and comfort. Upkeep is reduced to a minimum and the busy homemaker has more time to devote to other pursuits.

The Accord Furniture & TV Mart, on Route 209 in Accord (just a short drive from Kingston) is currently featuring a sale of dinettes. Attractive 5-piece sets that regularly sell for $65.50 have been reduced for this event to $49.50, some to $39.50. Sets ordinarily $79.50 are now $59.50. See these and many others in their showrooms any weekday from 10 to 5:30, Saturdays 9 to 5, and Sundays "open house" from 2 to 6.

Five Are Condemned

Nicosia, April 5 (AP)—A Nicosia special court today sentenced five young Greek Cypriots to death for a shooting attack at a security forces patrol. It was the largest number of Cypriots condemned to death at one time since the Eoka underground started its guerrilla campaign to drive the British out of Cyprus. The five youths surrendered after a sixth—the gunman—was killed while trying to escape on the Nicosia-Famagusta road Feb. 10. The judge ruled they "aided and abetted" their confederate.

Man Hit-Run Victim

New York, April 5 (AP)—An unidentified man was killed last night when struck almost simultaneously by two hit-and-run drivers on a Manhattan street. A witness told police the driver of the first car didn't even slow down. Riesel Regains Some Sight in Right Eye

New York, April 5 (AP)—Victor Riesel, labor columnist blinded by an acid-thrower a year ago this morning, disclosed today that he has regained some light perception in his right eye.

"It is a great difference from the complete darkness after I left the hospital," Riesel said. "Now I have to turn off the light before I go to bed. I can see a bright light and moving shadows in front of it."

Riesel said the improvement was noticed about the time he went to London early this year to consult an eye surgeon to get the view of "another school of medicine."

He said the "light retention" is becoming stronger and stronger, and the light now is to keep it. He said there was no vision in the sense of being able to read, but "now when I enter a room I can guide myself by light from the windows or a bright light placed in a corner of a room."

TWELVE REASONS WHY KINGSTON HIGH OFFERS YOUR CHILD MORE ADVANTAGES

- 1—A broader list of courses to meet the varied needs of the students based upon a sound program of testing all the students by a capable guidance director and his staff. For example: Three separate classes in each English division. One for those pupils with the highest I.Q.; a second for the average pupils and a third for those pupils under average. This program is also followed in Science, Mathematics, Social Studies, etc.
- 2—On the job training, Kingston has the stores, industries, hospitals, etc. for each student to obtain practical knowledge in their chosen line.
- 3—Kingston keeps pace with the progress of old and new industries in the area; for example the expanding of the clerical practice program from one to two periods, plus the purchase of all new equipment such as 30 new IBM electric typewriters, bringing to 68 the number of such machines now in use in Kingston High School's Vocational Business Department.
- 4—The expansion of the electronics class to meet an increasing demand for this field.
- 5—A total of 96 teachers, plus an administration staff of at least ten.
- 6—The opportunity for students of equal age to be grouped together such as those in the 10th, 11th and 12th grades in High School; those in the 7th, 8th and 9th grades in junior high school; with younger children in the elementary schools. This will permit proper competition among the various groups in debating, social and student activities.

7—Three junior high schools, including the new building at Dietz Stadium which will be ready for occupancy in 1958.

8—No overcrowding at Kingston High School. When the Consolidation goes into effect, freshmen will be transferred to one of the junior high schools, leaving more room in the high school for expanded class work.

9—Kingston High is and has been for years, the choice of practically all Woodstock Elementary School graduates.

10—For the athletically-minded boy or girl, Kingston High School offers a wide variety of choices. There are the principal sports: Football—varsity and junior varsity; Basketball—varsity and junior varsity and baseball. Also track, cross country, wrestling, hockey, tennis, golf, skiing. Girls basketball and girls softball and intermural sports.

11—Kingston has one of the outstanding music departments in the nation. Its Choir has taken part in many concerts and during the Easter vacation this year will go to South Carolina for concerts in Camden and Chester, S. C. Since it was organized in 1940 it has raised large sums of money to buy, among other things, a Hammond organ for the school auditorium.

12—It is a known fact among leading educators that Kingston High ranks among the five top high schools, scholastically in the state.

World News in Brief

Adams Defense Rests

London, April 5 (AP)—The defense for Dr. John Bodkin Adams rested its case with dramatic suddenness today and appealed to the jury to free the 58-year-old society doctor accused of murder.

Chief Defense Counsel Geoffrey Lawrence argued that Dr. Adams was only trying to "ease the misery" of the widow he is charged with drugging to death to inherit a chest of silver and a Rolls Royce car.

Leading toward the jury of 10 men and 2 women in Old Bailey Courtroom, the defense lawyer told in a quiet voice why he did not put Dr. Adams on the witness stand to tell his own story of the death of Mrs. Edith Alice Morrell in Eastbourne in 1950.

Won't Have Barriers

Cairo, Egypt, April 5 (AP)—The newspaper Al-Ahram said today UN Undersecretary General Ralph Bunche and Egyptian officials have agreed that no barbed wire barriers or minefields will be placed along the Gaza Strip's borders with Israel.

The paper said the agreement was reached in negotiations on the functions of the UN Emergency Force (UNEF) in the strip.

Bunche stated in Cairo to negotiate details after UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld reached a "gentlemen's agreement" with President Nasser during Hammarskjöld's recent visit.

Funds Are Slashed

Washington, April 5 (AP)—The House Appropriations committee today slashed 25 per cent from President Eisenhower's requests for new Commerce Department funds.

The committee recommended $653,685,060 in new appropriations for the department and related agencies for the fiscal year starting next July 1. This was $217,827,940 less than Eisenhower requested and $68,950,076 below appropriations for the current year.

In ordering one of its biggest cuts of the year, the committee apparently was mindful of what happened on its last bill, financing the Labor and Welfare Departments. It cut 118 million dollars from that measure only to have the House itself slash off an extra 15 millions. Still another $35 millions tentative cut by the House was restored on roll call votes yesterday.

The net result, it was generally agreed, will be a weakening of the available security strength of the free world although this effect will be offset in some degree by providing greater fire power for the smaller British forces, partly by U. S. aid.

fell. Rain and sleet splattered other sections.

Caution Urged

It was reported slippery in other areas where state police advised caution but no normal reduction of the speed limit.

One school was closed in Corning and rural grade children were sent home.

Speed limits were reduced to 35 MPH on the Thruway at 9 a. m. and early today the super highway was reported covered with snow and slush between New Paltz and Syracuse with a 35 MPH speed limit in effect from New Paltz to Selkirk.

Two hundred feet of a spring garden exhibit collapsed from the weight of snow at the Corning Home Show.

Four Lose Lives

In Georgia Storm

Elsewhere across the nation, pounding rains and lashing winds were reported in the southeastern section while light snow fell in the eastern reaches of the Great Plains and the upper Mississippi Valley, according to the Associated Press.

Vicious, erratic windstorms struck Georgia today and during the night, taking the lives of four persons.

Hardest hit was the area around Ellaville, Oglethorpe and Montezuma, about 110 miles south of Atlanta, Ga.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said "the threat of local blizzard conditions and heavy snows is over" in the upper Mississippi Valley. Ground blizzards, meanwhile, hobbled travel in east central Colorado and the southeastern corner of Wyoming.

Lions Exposition

Closes Saturday

Tonight and Saturday are the last for the 10th annual exposition of the Kingston Lions Club at the 156th Field Artillery Armory on Manor avenue.

Last night's attendance reached 1,100, despite the snowstorm, bringing the total for three nights to 5,100, according to Warren Smith, president of the club.

The doors open at 7 p. m. and close at 10:30.

The Freihofer cartoonist, Jim Fisk, will be back Saturday as a special attraction for children and the Bermuda trip free award will be made.

Boy Scout Troops

5 and 16 Join

For Hike Project

Twenty-seven Boy Scouts of Troop 5 sponsored by B'nai B'rith and Troop 16 of St. Peter's Episcopal Church of Stone Ridge joined forces to stage an inter-troop hike recently in the Accord area.

Supervising the project were Elmore Yallum, scoutmaster of Troop 5; Lester Sharkin, assistant scoutmaster; Carlton L. Deyo, scoutmaster of Troop 16 and Peter Knudsen, explorer advisor.

Prior to the hike a compass and trail course was mapped out by the patrol and senior patrol leaders of the two units.

The Scouts who recognized the various trail signs and compass readings, passed their requirements for advancement to second class rank.

Following the course a game was played, which was won by Robert Murphy and Anthony Causa of Troop 16 and Wayne Reynolds of Troop 5.

Others participating were Troop 5—Robert Barnett, Steve Krosner, Steve Kirschner, Lewis Krosner, Joseph Sharkin, Edward Kessler, Richard Fertil, Douglas Posner, Michael Toffel, Sandy Simon, Steve Eckoish, Paul Jacobson and Lee Waterman.

Troop 16—Keith Knudsen, Robert Larsen, Douglas Lyons, Carl Anderson, Robert Everett, Gary Thompson, James Ostrander, Warren Drew, Jack Van Demark, Richard Wright and Raymond Gallagher.

Creek Locks

Education Department would probably centralize the area and the children pulled out of Kingston schools.

"If we are going say no, now is the time to do it," one board member said. This seemed to be the general consensus.

Audio-Visual Program Grows

A tremendous increase in audio-visual education in the Kingston public school system during the past six years was outlined to the board by Warren Russell, director of the department.

Mr. Russell said that the number of persons seeing films supplied by the department had increased from 76,770 in 1940-50 to 131,527 last year. Last year more than 800 films were shown.

He pointed out, of course, that use of films is only a small part of the audio-visual program.

He said that the department needed a full-time secretary to handle mounting clerical duties and explained that the activities of the department had outgrown its office facilities.

Project Expands

Mr. Russell said the department's library now had approximately 325 films and 1,000 film strips and that the "mechanics" of handling these films and strips and other equipment was a consuming proposition.

Mr. Russell said he felt he should be getting out of the office and into the field more, that much could be done to coordinate the program with the work of Kingston's special teachers.

He would like to be able to sit down with individual teachers more, find out how audio-visual education can be best employed by each teacher, etc., but that he is now confined too closely to the office because of the pressure of clerical duties.

He told the board he would also like to do more "in-teacher training," coordinating audio-visual education with the curriculum.

Facilities Needed

Mr. Russell told the board that the audio-visual office needed renovation. For example, if he wants to preview a film every activity in the office must come to a standstill.

He pointed out that the department badly needed a partitioned, fairly sound-proof section in which such previewing could be done and available also for use by students and teachers. He said that in the future it would be advisable to consider the installation of similar facilities in each of the city's schools.

He said that better facilities for shipping and receiving audio-visual equipment, films, slides, etc., was needed, and provisions for photographing of small objects. Persons using films have to wash their hands frequently.

He said there was no wash basin in the present office.

Mr. Russell pointed out that educators recommend expenditure of one per cent of the total appropriation of a school district for audio-visual education—this exclusive of salaries in the department.

He called attention to the need for additional audio-visual equipment in the local school system, pointing out that local schools were "very low in radios" and that there was only one television set in the city.

Claims Stone

There is no influence or any indication which would create the inference that political figures had anything to do with the situation.

Stone, a resident of Snyder, N. Y., made no comment to news-men.

Stone and Brandenburg spent about 10 minutes in a closed session of the legislative committee at its offices at 217 Broadway.

Brandenburg said the hearing was postponed to give him an opportunity to familiarize himself "with the factual situation."

The Mature Parent

How Does Faith in Our Goodness Get Taken Away?

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

It was Sunday afternoon, and Ken's living room was filled with relatives.

Among them was a new aunt who had just acquired a handsome beaver coat. She was describing at great length her reasons for choosing it when Ken interrupted her to ask his mother where she's put his archery set.

She didn't like it. She liked it still less when, returning, he announced there was no sign of the set in the kitchen closet. As he continued to press his need for it on his mother, the aunt lost her temper. "Goodness, what a rude child you are, Ken!" she said sharply.

Ken looked astonished; then grew very red. His mother rose hastily, said, "Excuse us"—and took him out of the room.</

Earlier this week Day was released from Matteawan State Hospital for the Criminally Insane, after doctors judged him sane. He entered a mandatory plea of innocent at his arraignment yesterday. Day, formerly of Niagara Falls, was indicted in 1950 on the murder charge in the death of his common-law wife, Hilda Julianna Day, 42. Police said she was fatally stabbed at a hotel in Niagara Falls. Democrats Want Crotty

Buffalo, N. Y., April 5 (AP)—The executive body of the Erie County Democratic Committee has rejected the resignation of its chairman, Peter J. Crotty, in a dispute over the appointment of a city clerk. Crotty resigned Monday. He said the failure of the Democratic majority on the city's common council to appoint his candidate for city clerk was, in effect, "a vote of 'no confidence' in his leadership. The executive committee of the county organization last night named a special committee to ask him to reconsider and ask the Democrats on the common council to 'stand by their commitment to Chairman Crotty.'"

The first two-wheeler bicycle was built in Hartford, Conn., in 1877.

HIGHLAND NEWS

UD Society Observes 61st Anniversary

Highland, April 4—Observing the 61st anniversary of the organization of the UD Society, 20 members lunched Saturday at the Old Fort, New Paltz.

The 16 young women who were the original founders considered themselves as an embroidery club. It was a period when doilies, tray cloths, centerpieces, bureau covers, must carry hand embroidery and this needlecraft formed the members work at the meetings every two weeks.

A few years later they proposed the purchase of books with an exchange at each meeting. When the village library opened many gave their books to it and later each member gave the price of a book. The members gave two plays in Feeter hall, with the proceeds going toward the purchase of new uniforms for the firemen. Their assistance helped put over minstrels for two years, and the money received became the start of sidewalks in the village.

In recent years knitting has been their interest. Yarn has been purchased and afghans knitted and given to shut-ins, veterans at Castle Point, and patients at Golden Hill. This they continue to do. Membership remains at 25 and their meetings bring together a group that would otherwise not meet often.

At the close of the lunch Mrs. Fred Wilkow presided at the business meeting. Reports were heard from the sunshine committee, yarn chairman, treasurer, and secretary pro-tem, Miss Lillian Johnston.

Others attending were Mrs. S. D. Farnham, Mrs. Ruth Smalley, Mrs. W. B. Taber, Mrs. C. I. Richards, Mrs. Peter Weyant, Mrs. Hubert Elting, Mrs. Charles Champlin, Mrs. George DuBois, Mrs. Rose Seaman, Mrs. Nathan Williams, Mrs. Alfred Lane, Mrs. Franklin Welker, Mrs. Abraham Rhodes, Mrs. Joseph Mellor, Mrs. Thomas Sears, Mrs. Harty Thompson, the Misses Rowena Harcourt and Eliza Ives Raymond. NATO Allies Are Warned by Reds Of Retaliation

London, April 5 (AP)—The Russians, continuing their warnings to America's NATO allies, have threatened devastating retaliation for any nuclear attacks from bases in Britain, The Netherlands, and West Germany.

Moscow radio made the warnings last night in broadcasts beamed to the three countries.

Peace Still Aim

They followed recent letters from Soviet Premier Bulganin to the governments of Norway and Denmark, only Scandinavian countries in NATO. Bulganin told both countries that Russia wants peace but would retaliate with great destruction for any atomic attack.

The broadcast last night in Dutch commented on Dutch Defense Minister Cornelius Staf's current visit to the United States on military aid. The broadcast said the Dutch people should be told "the grave truth—that the Soviet Union would, in the event of an attack, not shrink from destroying the springboards used for aggression against it."

Warns of Blow

Commentator Alexander Melnikov declared that the Soviet Union "does not intend to attack anybody" but added the Russians "would be forced to deal an annihilating blow" at any aggression. He said that one H-bomb dropped on the U. S. base at Soesterberg, in central Holland, would "obliterate Amsterdam, The Hague, Utrecht, Amersfoort, and the whole area between these cities."

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

Received an interesting letter from Eugene B. Carey in reference to a straw load accident written up in this column a short time ago.

Mr. Carey writes: "I was on that ride with 36 others and not fortunately my injuries were not serious. It happened about 1:18 a. m. on the morning of Friday the 13th of February, 1914. 43 years ago. A group of young people, known as The Jolly Four, mostly clerks in the Herbert Carl Dry Goods Store, got up a straw ride, going to Stoll's Hotel at Binnewater for the ride and a dance.

Only a short distance away from the hotel was the Wallkill Valley railroad crossing, shielded from view by the Henry Hoffman store building." Mr. Carey further writes: "As the wagon started to cross the tracks, it was struck by a train, causing the death of three of our party and also William Anderson, the driver. The train was in charge of Patrick Cahill, conductor. William Sanford, engineer, Chris Schlein, brakeman and Lewis Hyatt, fireman. Raymond Wood, Julius Moser and Arthur Rorty land were the ones in that unfortunate accident. The injured were Nellie Zimmerman, Vera Zelle, Gertrude Smith, Bella Leete, Paula and Francis Cable, Eva Ellsworth and Leo Netburn."

"Others in that party were Gussie Bug, Bessie Coddington, Asa and Ralph Constable, Earl DeWitt, Nellie Ellsworth, Cora Halstein, John Kolts, Sara Lammon, Edward Lang, Mathilda and Althea Metcalf, Ira Post, Harold Price, Ethel Skelton, Edna Stokes, William Stork, Irving Smith, Everett Schutt, Clyde Wood and Ray Zimmerman. Many of the girls mentioned have since changed their names by marriage.

It was a bitter cold night. There was no snow on the ground at the time, so we went by wagon instead of the usual, old-fashioned sleigh ride." Mr. Carey concludes.

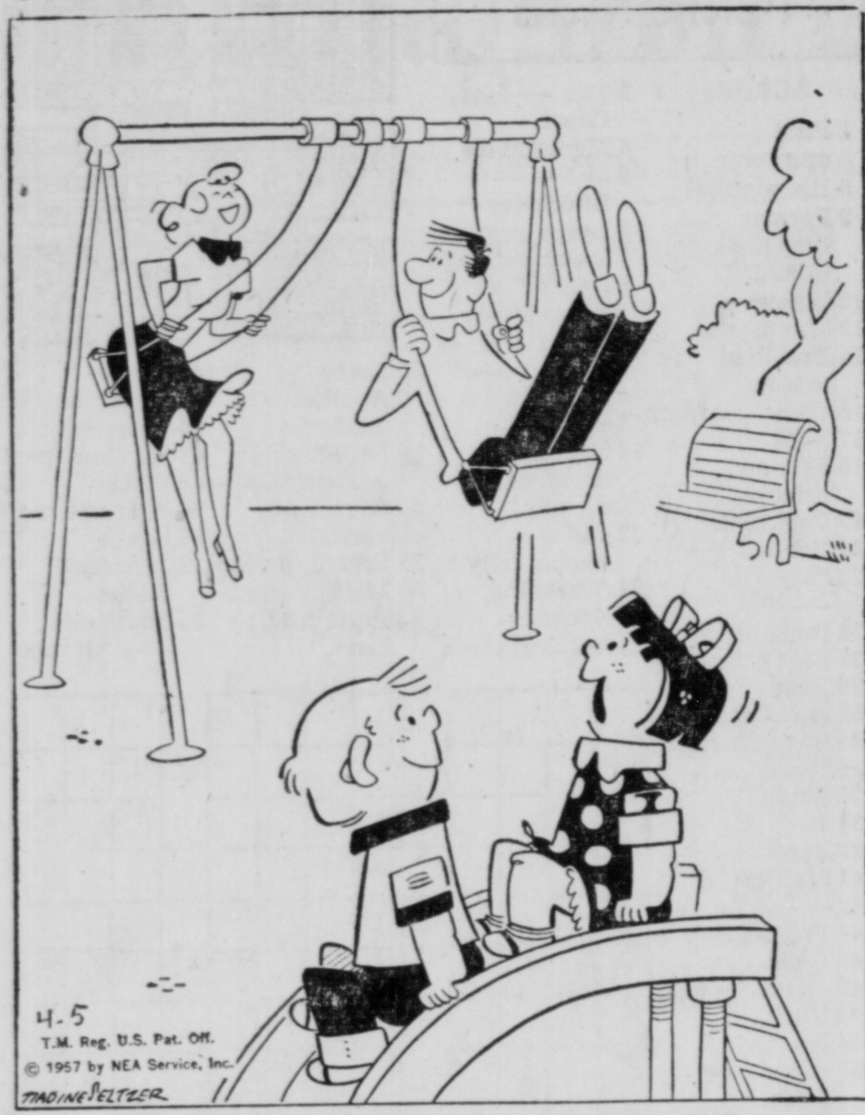

In looking through the Kingston Freeman and Journal of February 17, 1914, there is a long write-up on this accident. It seems the Jolly Four group intended to entertain their friends at the Indian Valley Inn, at Kerhonkson. They all met at the Central Post Office and by the time they got to Binnewater they were thoroughly chilled and it was decided to go to Stoll's Hotel. The party enjoyed dancing and music, with Miss Eva Ellsworth, one of the party playing to piano. At about 1 a. m. it was decided to start for home. The jolly crowd filled the wagon, and were packed in tightly and the return trip was begun.

William Anderson, the driver, started to drive across the station crossing, and was unable to see the freight-train coming until he started to cross the tracks. Suddenly the train was upon them. Anderson whipped up his horses to try and get off the tracks, but the frightened horses plunged forward and the train, with a crash hit the forward end of the wagon, hurling the occupants out. The engineer, as he heard the crash, tried in vain to stop the train but was unable to avoid hitting the wagon. The train crew assisted the injured into the caboose and brought them back to Kingston. The accident was telephoned to Kingston so that about a half a dozen physicians met the train to assist the injured.

The world catch of fish has risen by more than 40 percent since 1948 with Japan far in the lead of the United States which holds second place over Russia.

No-Trump Bid Easily Made

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

North's two diamond response today was the Jacoby transfer bid and demanded that South rebid in hearts.

South dutifully bid two hearts whereupon North bid three clubs. This bid was not a transfer but merely showed that North held a heart-club two suiter. It was also a forcing bid since North would have dropped the contract at two hearts if he held a poor hand.

In spite of the fact that North had shown a two-suit hand South decided to contract for three no-trump. North had told his story, trusted South's judgment and passed. It was just as well that he did. Four hearts would almost surely have gone down.

West opened the three of hearts against the three no-trump contract and East's eight forced declarer's queen.

South led hearts right back and played dummy's seven. East won with the nine and chose to lead the three of spades. South played the ten and West the king. At this point three no-trump was home but poor West decided to return a spade.

This play gave declarer three spade tricks and he promptly took them, discarding two hearts and a diamond from dummy. He then proceeded to run the club suit and on the last club lead East was hopelessly squeezed. He had to throw away the queen of diamonds in order to hang on to the ace of hearts. This allowed declarer to make the last two tricks with the ace and jack of diamonds.

What sort of people own Studebakers? Studebaker owners are individualists. They refuse to be satisfied with look-alike cars. They're alert to the extra value of Studebaker-Packard's many exclusives: a built-in Supercharger, the luxury ride of variable-rate springing, and Twin Traction, with drive power at both rear wheels. Most important, they're the people who got the facts on Studebaker. See your dealer today.

Charge Misrepresentations

Woodstock Signers Refute Article on Onteora School

Woodstock, April 5—In Wednesday's Freeman an article was printed as released by a committee purporting to represent 500 signers of a petition to bring about the dissolution of Woodstock School and annex the corpus thereof to Onteora School. At no time or place has there ever been disclosed a list of the names of that committee or of its officers.

At times, they, whoever they are, have called themselves the "Committee of 500." Their petition as filed with the Commissioner of Education numbered less than 500 and contained no many names of persons discredited by lack of residence, signed statements of withdrawal, etc., that the number truly qualified is less than 250.

The total number of qualified voters in Woodstock District 2 is over 1000 of whom approximately 800 are expected to vote on April 13 between the hours of 2 and 8 at the Woodstock School.

Refute Points

Following is a factual refutation of the other misrepresentations in that article.

The Onteora curriculum being granted a six-year high school charter by the State Board of Regents sounds very impressive. Let's look at it. It is nothing but a combination of junior and senior high schools. It is true a few small schools like Onteora have such a program. The schools are screened and tested by the College Board, however, the most credit that can be transferred to any college is six hours and they must be in the fields of English and social science.

Teaching Languages

The teaching of languages in the elementary school is questionable today by the clear thinking educator. It takes time away from the teaching of badly needed basic skills. Onteora states that some college courses can be commenced during the last two years of the high school period. Just what are the college courses offered for this program, or is this just talk?

An accelerated program has some glaring disadvantages. The question of maturity (studies by the Ford Grant) found that children fail in college because of lack of maturity. What is the advantage of this program at Onteora? Kingston has had experience in working with the accelerated courses and their draw-backs. The result — Kingston has enriched its program instead of accelerating it.

The term progressive education as used by Onteora is a loose, broad statement. Do the school administrators follow the "John Dewey" ideas? Is it their contention that the high school child is too immature to make his own judgment?

If the statement so long defended by Onteora, that Latin is not required for college or even medical schools, why worry about it? OBTAINING a strong Latin teacher is not the complete remedy. One must have students who want the subject (only one this year—how many next year?) Kingston not only has an excellent Latin program, but a strong overall language program including German which Onteora also does not teach.

The transportation service needs no long statement. Onteora like Kingston has buses owned by private operators transporting the children. The insurance, frequent inspections, supervision of the children, etc. are met by all schools where buses are concerned. This is required by law.

It is amusing to note the restricted school grounds of 35 acres at Onteora where the children are never "on the loose." Students at Kingston are not allowed to roam during the lunch period. In the 42-minute recess they may go off the school grounds, but only to nearby stores and eating establishments. Oddly enough, this practice is indulged in only by a small minority group.

College Angle

Onteora states in its brief history that 35 per cent to 40 per cent of its graduates have entered colleges. Where did they go? What colleges? Do you list Delhi and Cobleskill (2-year terminal courses) as colleges? Where is Onteora's list of colleges? What follow-ups of college students do you make? Do your students actually go and stay?

The guidance department helps students procure scholarships—where? Blanket statements without facts mean little. All of the duties and details listed are nothing more than any guidance director does in his daily routine—all colleges require these details. This makes good reading but it is not impressive when one knows the facts.

It is true there are some advantages to having a small student body, however, the disadvantages are omitted. It is factually impossible to have a diversified curriculum capable of meeting the educational needs of all the students. The people who make such a statement that Kingston could not give students individual attention should visit the school. Kingston has a staff of six guidance counselors all accredited and licensed to do counseling. How many meet the same qualifications at Onteora?

MAN WHO CAME BACK—Near the end of "the long road back," Rev. John Caccardo, 46, kneels before the altar of his Hackensack, N.J., Christian Community Church. Convicted of a 1937 Brooklyn, New York, slaying, he was released from prison on parole for life in 1953. New York's Gov. Averell Harriman has just terminated the parole because of Rev. Caccardo's successful rehabilitation. The minister is married and the father of two children. He completes his ministerial studies in April.

Is it only happy bliss that the following statement was made? "No problem has yet gotten beyond the control of the school and into the juvenile courts." How about a child who hit the teacher? It became a court case. Does not the State Industrial Officer visit Onteora?

Placed in Positions

Correction on your study or observation of the Kingston High occupational training courses. Let's get the facts straight. The students who graduate from Kingston in vocational secretarial practice and office skills are skilled. They are placed on permanent employment. Twenty-six from the class of 1956 had jobs and are still holding them. How many skilled girls did Onteora place on jobs (skilled) in 1956?

Another correction: The industrial arts student at Kingston is not prepared for a specific job. This is only true in the trade fields. Know your facts!

Onteora industrial arts is a limited concept of education due to the fact it is limited by courses and number.

The rural school cannot be compared with a large school, which is more capable in providing special services such as good medical care... corrective therapy... doctors on duty... nurses on duty... psychiatric treatment... plus other facilities for the proper adjustment of the child.

The administrator at Onteora has issued a carte blanche invitation to visit the school while it is in operation. That is fine, but we have the reports of two embarrassed mothers who took such a tour but were informed quite firmly that they could not visit any classes.

If we are forced into Onteora we must accept what that school gives—good or bad for our children. No one to our knowledge has been in a classroom—just a cut and dried guided tour. In our opinion this falls far short of what the average parent wants. They are greatly interested in the instruction of their children, the teachers and methods. Why not?

Hughes Chair at Colgate

New York, April 5 (AP)—A Charles Evans Hughes chair of government and jurisprudence has been established at Colgate University, Hamilton, N. Y. Announcement of the new chair was made yesterday by Colgate's president, Dr. Everett Case, at a lawyers club meeting. Former Ambassador Joseph C. Grew and former State Supreme Court Justice Joseph M. Proskauer were named chairman and vice chairman respectively of a national committee to raise $250,000 for the memorial professorship. Hughes, the late chief justice, was a student at Colgate. Already at hand, the committee announced, is $85,000—including a Hughes bequest and special gifts from his family, committee members and friends.

Ben-Gurion Sees Russian Jews in Move to Israel

"A possibility has appeared" of immigration of Russian Jews to Israel, Premier David Ben-Gurion declared this week in an address delivered at ceremonies opening a new newspapermen's center in Tel Aviv, according to the Jewish Telegraphic Agency Daily News Bulletin.

The Premier described the possibility as "not certain but not unrealistic."

The Jewish youth of the Soviet Union is "full of a desire to immigrate," Ben-Gurion said, because of restrictions on Jewish students in Soviet universities. A recent visitor had disclosed, he added, that Soviet universities had established a Jewish quota of 1.5 percent of the student body. Previously, the Premier said, the quota had been 10 percent.

Broadcasts Jammed

The Israel leader, according to the Soviet authorities, were jamming Israel's Yiddish language broadcasts beamed at the USSR. He also reported that despite Soviet press charges of "Israeli atrocities," both Jews and non-Jews in the USSR were speaking of the Israeli army's exploits.

Meanwhile, in anticipation of a large influx of immigrants, a fund of $5,000,000 Israeli pounds ($2,750,000) was established this week for the construction of new centers for care of the newcomers. The project is under the joint auspices of the ministries of labor and education, and the program will be carried out with the cooperation of the absorption department of the Jewish Agency.

The new wave of immigration into Israel brought to the country the families of 371 professionals in the three months ending Feb. 28, according to the Jewish Agency. Of the total, 48 physicians and 96 other professionals found employment immediately, while the others are awaiting appointment to various posts.

Dies of Wounds

Buffalo, N. Y., April 5 (AP)—A 49-year-old man died at a hospital yesterday of a wound received March 27 when his rifle apparently discharged accidentally when he stumbled. Police said Phinnie E. Williams of nearby Clarence was leaving his home to shoot starlings when he apparently slipped and his 22 rifle discharged and shot him in the head. Medical Examiner Milton J. Schultz was investigating.

Paperboy Killed

Buffalo, N. Y., April 5 (AP)—David C. Muhl, 16, a newspaper boy of the suburban town of Tonawanda, was killed last night when he was struck by an automobile as he was delivering papers.

The area of Greenland is 736,518 square miles. Its population is an estimated 18,000.

Would Ban Weapons

Philadelphia, April 5 (AP)—One of the nation's largest Quaker groups has urged the Eisenhower administration to "eliminate the manufacture, testing and use of nuclear weapons." In a letter to the President, the Philadelphia yearly meeting of the Religious Society of Friends (Quakers), asked that the actions be taken

"at once." The letter—a consensus of those who attended the group's recent 277th meeting here—argued that "regardless of the actions of other nations," a nuclear ban by the U. S. would "provide a positive demonstration of our dedication to the cause of peace."

INVITING GUESTS WHO ARE STRANGERS

A wife writes: "Very soon my husband and I will have to do some extensive entertaining of his business associates, most of whom I have never met. He insists that I must personally contact the wives of his associates (who are complete strangers to me) and issue a personal invitation. My feeling on the matter is that this is his home just as much as mine and that an invitation issued by him is just as valid as an invitation issued by me. I think it would be very awkward calling complete strangers and inviting them to dinner, or supper, or whatever. In this situation, don't you think he should do the inviting?"

I'm sorry not to be able to agree with you, but the wife is the hostess and correctly issues the family's invitations.

When Friend Is a Wallflower

Dear Mrs. Post: The other evening a friend and I went to a church dance. During the evening several young men came over and asked me to dance and I got up and danced with them. On our way home my friend seemed rather peeved and when I asked her what was the matter she said that she thought I was very rude to get up and dance and leave her sitting alone. She thinks I should have refused unless she had a partner to dance with too. Don't you think her attitude unreasonable?

Answer: To go to a dance and to refuse to dance would be very silly. You should, however, have introduced your friends to the girl you were with and hope that they would ask her to dance, too.

The Curled Little Finger

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you kindly tell me if it is proper to hold a coffee cup with the little finger held out and curled at the end? I have a friend who does it and thinks it is quite the thing. I think it is affected and in bad taste. What is your opinion?

Answer: If done to a degree that is conspicuous, it is bad taste. If it is done very slightly, it might be quite all right.

Who pays for the wedding expense, the bride or the groom? Mrs. Post's booklet No. 501, "The Etiquette of Weddings," explains the expenses and who pays for them. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 25 cents in coin to Dept. EP, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Eugene Link Speaks Before Parents' Club

"Family Patterns — East and West" was the theme of the lecture delivered by Dr. Eugene P. Link, speaker at the monthly meeting of the Hurley Parents Club held Wednesday.

Dr. Link is chairman of the Division of School Science at New Paltz State University Teachers College, and he is president of the Tri-State Council on Family Relations.

Dr. Link recently spent a year in India where he was a Fulbright professor in a South Indian University near Madras.

He kept his audience both interested and amused with his unique delivery of family life comparisons between our very modern America and the ancient civilization of India's customs. He also discussed with a receptive audience the importance of Americans understanding and accepting India's position in the world today as a self-governing country.

Dr. Link, assisted by Mrs. Link, who is a specialist in child development, have led the Marriage and Family Life Study Tour to Europe, investigating family services in the various countries. His primary interest is marriage and family relations.

Youth Concert Is Scheduled for Sunday By Dutchess County Philharmonic Society

The Dutchess County Philharmonic Society, in cooperation with the American Federation of Musicians, Local No. 238, will present its annual free Youth Concert, Sunday, April 7, at 5 p. m. in the new Poughkeepsie High School auditorium. The program will be offered by the Dutchess County Philharmonic Orchestra, under the direction of Ole Windstad.

Mr. Windstad, who has presented over 100 children's and young people's concerts in this country, said today that offering the young people in the community the opportunity of seeing and hearing a symphony orchestra is one of the best ways to awaken their interest in fine music.

Tickets for the concert have been distributed to schools in Dutchess county and the immediate Mid-Hudson vicinity. Admission is free for young people.

Included in the program will be: the overture to "Russian and Ludmilla," Glinka; excerpts from Rimsky-Korsakov's "Symphonic Suite 'Scheherazade,'" and the Johann Strauss waltz "Tales From the Vienna Woods." Mrs. Alice Smiley, well-known local violinist, will discuss the selections, and various instruments will be demonstrated by members of the orchestra.

Mrs. Philip G. Swartz, vice president of the society and Miss Jane Wilson, music supervisor in the Arlington School system and a member of the board of directors of the society, are serving as co-chairmen of the concert.

The final concert of the 1956-57 season will be given by the orchestra Wednesday, April 10, at 8:30 p. m., also in the Poughkeepsie High School auditorium.

Featured at that time will be Mary Dawn Judd, soprano, who will appear as guest soloist with the orchestra. Miss Judd will sing "Ah fors'è lui" from "La Traviata," Verdi; "Dove Sono" from "The Marriage of Figaro," Mozart; and "Solveig's Song" and "Solveig's Cradle Song" from the "Peer Gynt Suite," Grieg.

Miss Judd, who was the 1955 winner in the Dutchess County Philharmonic Society's auditions for young people and sang with the orchestra last season, is returning by popular request. She received her training at the New England Conservatory in Boston and the Juilliard School of Music in New York city, and has had wide experience in concert, oratorio, and opera. Miss Judd has sung with the Chautauqua Opera Company several summers, most recently this past year in the title role of "Madame Butterfly."

The orchestra will also be heard in the complete "Scheherazade," as well as the other numbers mentioned above for the Youth Concert.

Ole Windstad, the conductor, and several members of the orchestra are Kingston area residents; among them Mrs. Frances Gould and Julius Teller, violinists; Mark Baczynski, violist; Miss Lynn Goble, harpist and Miss Jacqueline Burhans and Hollis Burhans, French horn.

LIVING WOOD TONES

This is an exciting new development in the finish of Spinnet Pianos. Just picture to yourself—Suntone, Pumice, Teak, Dawn, Corinthian White and Gold, Jet and Provincial. The Pumice is especially lovely being like Lined Oak in shade but less expensive. Some of these are on display at Jimmy Winters showroom at 117 Clinton Avenue. You will be pleasantly surprised and pleased with these new finishes developed by Winter & Company. Among the other attractive buys he has a studio sized upright carrying a new piano guarantee—it is used. Another is a Steinway baby grand that is being completely rebuilt. This will also carry a new piano guarantee. Many others to choose from.—Adv.

Nature of Man, Final Topic Of Onteora Forum

F. L. Kunz, a world traveler and lecturer, noted for his speaking ability and understanding of world problems, will conclude the Onteora Forum series with a discussion on the nature of man, his place in the universe, and his goals, Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in Onteora Central School, Boiceville, William H. Deming, director of Adult Education, has announced.

This is the final session for the current season in a series of 10 programs in the forum, which is open without charge to all area residents and has been planned and is moderated by James W. Orser of the Onteora faculty.

Near Fulfillment

Technologically, modern man is near the fulfillment of the age-old dream of material sufficiency and leisure time for the enjoyment and upbuilding of his world. Yet every man is haunted by the prospect of a catastrophic war. Many of the basic problems confronting man in modern society are directly related to the attitude that he possesses and the faith that he has in himself to solve this dilemma and free himself for creative work. This last forum program is dedicated to a penetrating analysis of man's dilemma and the search for a more adequate philosophy of thought and action, Mr. Deming said.

Mr. Kunz was born in Illinois. Before completing his formal education, he travelled throughout the United States and in the South Seas, New Zealand, Australia, India, Egypt, and Europe. Upon graduation from the University of Wisconsin, he took up educational activity as a career.

Named College Head

In 1913 he was appointed principal (president) of Amada College, Colorado, Ceylon. Four years later, after completely reorganizing the college, he accepted the post of executive secretary of the Society for the Promotion of National Education. In this capacity, he met and worked with such leaders of India as Jawaharlal Nehru, Gandhi, and many others.

In 1922, Mr. Kunz returned to the United States and began a career of lecturing to colleges and other groups. He founded the magazine, Main Currents in Modern Thought in 1940 with a view toward stimulating an integrative approach to education, that is, interrelating the separate studies into a meaningful whole and replacing irrational materialism in higher learning. He has also been visiting professor at several colleges.

Helped Form Group

In 1946 he worked with an outstanding group of scholars to form the Foundation for Integrated Education. Main Currents was made the official organ of the foundation, and Mr. Kunz, while continuing as editor of the magazine, also serves as executive vice-president of the foundation.

Professor Harry A. Overstreet has said that Mr. Kunz is "one of the most gracious and mentally stimulating minds I have ever known."

Mr. Kunz, his wife, and son now live in Port Chester.

The immediately previous Forum program was a description of an experiment in rural living in Broome county for non-farm residents, industrial groups, and city dwellers who own "low income" farm land, presented by James E. Lawrence.

"This afternoon we will take Mr. Frog apart and see what makes him croak," said the pro-

Dashes in Slush Without Shoes to Corner Robber

New York, April 5 (AP)—A 25-year-old taxicab driver ran three blocks in his bare feet through slush-covered streets last night to corner a man who allegedly beat and robbed a woman.

The cab driver, Jack Scapellito, said he was lounging in his ground-floor Manhattan apartment (466 W. 26th St.) when he heard a woman scream. Running to the lobby, he found Miss Anna Gerencser, 43, a building tenant, lying on the floor.

Miss Gerencser said she was accosted by a man who announced a holdup and beat and punched her. She suffered a fractured nose and head cuts.

Scapellito, wearing trousers and a T-shirt, but no shoes or socks, dashed from the building and gave chase to the fleeing robber. The temperature was 35 degrees.

Three blocks away the fleeing man ran into a building and Scapellito hailed patrolmen Donald Allen and Henry Tustin. On the roof of the building the officers captured Robert Jones, 24.

Police said Jones threw away Miss Gerencser's purse, containing $20, during the chase. They also said Jones was identified by the victim. He was booked on charges of assault and robbery.

Schedule YMCA State Convention For This Weekend

The annual convention of the YMCA's of New York State will take place Saturday and Sunday at the Hotel Onondoga Hotel, Syracuse, according to Louis Schafer, local general secretary.

A pre-conference meeting of YMCA board presidents will start the convention at 9:30 a. m. Saturday.

Slate Noted Speakers

Noted personalities that will highlight the convention are: Herbert P. Lansdale, Jr., new general secretary of the National Council of the YMCA's; Dr. John Oliver Nelson, professor of Christian vocation at Yale Divinity School; Vice Admiral Ralph Otis Davis, USN, (Retired) and Bishop W. Earl Leden, resident bishop of the Syracuse area of the Methodist Church, who will look after the Sunday worship service.

The convention theme is: "Strengthening Our YMCA for the Task Ahead." It has been pointed out to the secretaries in charge of the local and the state YMCAs that with a growing population of youth and adults, living in a period of greater leisure, the YMCA will be called upon to render ever greater service to an increasing number of communities and an ever growing membership. This year's convention is planned to provide discussion, leading to consensus on the problems confronting many communities.

Topics Listed

There will be two different two-hour workshop sessions on such topics as: YMCA insurance, world service, young adult program, summer program (day and resident camp, and building and city program), personnel, community extension work, financing the YMCA, membership, pre-induction training (pertaining to armed services) and industrial management relations. Kingston representatives will be G. Herbert DeKay, board president; Clifford G. Smith, vice president; Elmer A. Ry-lance, past president and Mr. Schafer, general manager.

Mayonnaise inherits its name from Mahon, a port on the island of Minorca off the coast of Spain, where the salad dressing first appeared.

BYRNE-ING 'EM IN—Tommy Byrne keeps up a constant stream of chatter to batters but is all business when he whips his arm around and snaps pin-point hooks high and tight and around hitters' knees. The Yankees' veteran left-hander, who staged a remarkable comeback two years ago, now is equally as valuable as a relief worker.

Hope for Dodger Invalids

Trace Erskine-Spooner Arm Woes to Calcium Deposits

Carl Erskine and Karl Spooner, worried and perplexed, have found out sound can make them sound again.

The two Brooklyn Dodger pitchers, who came home for spring training earlier in the week with pains in their shoulders and no idea of what was wrong, learned from a hospital report yesterday that both have the same trouble—calcium deposits.

Both are taking the same sort of treatments, with ultrasonic sound waves attacking the calcium to break up the deposits. "It's sure a relief to know at least what's wrong," said Erskine, the 30-year-old right-hander who twice has hurled no-hitters in his nine years with the Dodgers. "All I knew before was I couldn't pitch without pain. Nothing ever showed up on X-rays before, but they tell me calcium deposits can hurt you while they are forming and before they're visible."

Optimistic of Future
The "nice-guy" veteran, who set a World Series record by striking out 14 to beat the New York Yankees 3-2 in the third game of the 1953 classic, said the two-day hospital tests uncovered the calcium "high in the back of my shoulder, not where it hurts, but just above it. They're quite sure the pain and the calcium are related. There are three bits which weren't visible before."

Erskine with a 113-69 won-lost record in the majors after a 13-11 mark last season that included a May 12 no-hitter against the New York Giants, said that "while these new ultrasonic treatments are no overnight cure, I'll be pitching again before you know it."

Spooner's case is almost identical. The 25-year-old left-hander, who broke into the majors with back-to-back shutouts and a record for strikeouts (27) in two successive games late in 1954 but has not been nearly as impressive since, said he has calcium deposits "in my left shoulder socket. I'm hoping that with a full set of treatments I'll be OK again."

Robin Roberts, not as fast as before but changing speeds effectively on his curve, gave the New York Yankees a look at the best pitching they've seen this spring yesterday. And it wasn't until Robin left, in favor of a pinch-hitter, that the world champions managed a 1-0 victory over Philadelphia.

Bauer Gets Bunt
For eight innings, the 30-year-old Roberts permitted but one hit—a bunt single by Hank Bauer that opened the fourth.

In the ninth, the Yankee rookie Woody Held tripled off rookie righthander Dick Farrell, and Gil McDougald followed with a sacrifice fly that brought home the run and lifted the Yankees over 500 despite only two hits.

McDougald had junked the Phils' bid in the ninth, stabbing a "sure" RBI hit to center. Ted Kazanski that got relief

Bobby Shantz out of the inning. Shantz had relieved Whitey Ford, who gave five hits, walked three but struck out six in seven innings—his first, work since March 23 because of a "tender" arm. Ford has allowed only one run in 21 innings for an 0.43 ERA.

Elsewhere, Brooklyn battered Milwaukee 14-8; Chicago's White Sox nipped the Boston Red Sox 6-5 in 11 innings; the St. Louis Cardinals defeated Detroit 5-4; Pittsburgh's singles beat Kansas City 4-3; Cincinnati rallied to defeat Washington 5-4 in 10; the New York Giants halted Cleveland's winning streak at six games 9-6, and Baltimore walloped Chicago's Cubs 18-5.

The Dodgers were out-hit by the Braves 16-14, but the Brooks collected 12 extra base hits—five of them home runs and two of those by Duke Snider.

Bob Lemon and Don Mossi were battered for 13 hits by the Giants, with Vic Wertz homering twice for the Indians.

Canadiens, Boston Bruins In Cup Finals

(By The Associated Press)
The Montreal Canadiens, no strangers to Stanley Cup finals, and Boston's Bruins, who have reached the last round only three times in the past 11 years, will meet for the National Hockey League's coveted post-season trophy won by the Canadian sextet last year.

Both gained the championship round last night by identical 4-3 scores and the same 4-1 margin in games over their semifinal opponents. They will open the (best-of-seven series in Montreal Saturday night.

The Canadiens wrapped up their series against the New York Rangers on 35-year-old Maurice Richard's goal at 2:11 of a sudden death overtime. The Bruins turned back the Detroit Red Wings, who finished first during the regular season.

Trailing after the Canadiens had struck with almost unbelievable speed for three goals—two by Jean Beliveau—within 3 minutes of the second period, the Rangers struck back with three goals in the final period to send the game into overtime.

Rocket Does It
Then the famous Rocket, oldest player in the league, picked up the puck on a pass from brother Henri after the disc had hit him in the stomach and fired it past New York goalie Gump Worsley for his 66th goal in Stanley Cup play.

Sickler's-Pine Plains Contest Rated Tossup

It's the greatest ever, this 1957 Kingston Basketball Tournament which comes to a crashing climax Saturday night at 8:30 at the municipal auditorium.

The railbirds are calling it even-up, take-your-pick for the payoff between Sickler's Delivery, the defending champions, and Pine Plains Bombardiers, the perennial contenders.

The consolation preliminary between the Kingston Stars and Staatsburg American Legion starts the program at 7:15 p. m.

Team and individual prizes and the Hank Krum Memorial trophy will be awarded following the feature contest.

All-Star Clash

Manager Len Sickler's champions are expected to go with Ed Kolokowski, Bill Knott, Frank Koenig, Frank Connelly and Ralph Fedulla as starters. The reserves are John Volpe, Jack Hogan, who drilled the winning shot in the Delivery's spectacular 88-86 overtime victory over the Kingston Stars and George Bruda, a defensive wizard.

George Stutzle is expected to counter with Walt Shook and George Holoway up front; Phil

Spencer, center; Bob Martin and the slightly sensational Ted Dwyer at guards.

Neither side has tipped its hands on the "match-ups." Just who the Deliverymen plan on containing Dwyer has not been revealed. Neither has George Stutzle indicated who will get the chore of handling Kolokowski, the 1956 MVP.

A "Dream Playoff"

Saturday's finals represent a "dream playoff" from the standpoint of fan and gate interest. It couldn't have come out better had it been planned on a drafting board.

Dwyer, the Columbia University ace, goes into the contest as the all-time KBT scoring leader. He racked up 123 points in three games to surpass Kolokowski's four-game mark of 115. Every time Dwyer sinks a point he boosts his record to stratospheric levels.

Dwyer's 58 points in the first game represent an all-time KBT record as did the 130 points unleashed by the Bombardiers.

The 20-point third period by Gary Holoway Wednesday is another tournament record.

MVP Candidates Plenty

The contest reeks with candidates for the Hank Krum Memorial MVP award. Among those in serious contention are Holoway, Spencer and Dwyer of the Bombardiers and Kolokowski and Koenig of the Deliverymen.

George Carpozis, who has averaged 30 points in three games, appears in the consolation with the Kingston Stars.

Pine Plains hit the century mark in all three games, including the record 130. They defeated Richards Sporting Goods, 130-70; Staatsburg, 100-86; and Van Voorhis Lumber, 107-96.

Sickler's failed to reach the 100 mark, beating Back's Cedar-raps, 98-55; Kingston Stars, 88-86; and Maines Machine Shop, 92-78.

BOWLING SCORES

Phyllis Wolff wrapped games of 175 and 180 around a 200 middle effort to pace the Central Rec women with a 555 series last night.

Phyl Gehringer of the Freeman's classified department slammed 537, with 182, 197 and 158.

Evelyn Francis shot a pair of 166s and 179 for 511.

Other top shooters in the league included Rita Amarello 462, Ellen Hutton 492, Thelma Garon 430, Edna Peterson 443, Rose Rhymer 401, Gen Whitmore 413, Mary Mills 450, Hilda Johnson 435, Marge Hornbeck 416, Marcia Albert 411, Neil Glennon 450, Marcia Clark 445, Rosemary Pillsworth 497, Jessie Burnett 466, Mary Markle 405, Edna Kirth 432, Mildred Mackey 448, Alicia Winn 483, Elinor Burberg 490, Marge Delamater 443.

Team results:
Singer's Dept. Store 2, Minasian's Market 1; Madden's Television 1, GI Joe's Express 2; DeLuca's Cleaners 1, Marcres Lamps 2; Boice's Dairy 2, Stone Ridge Fire Aux. 1.

Falstaffs Fail In ABC Repeat

Fort Worth, Tex., April 5 (P)—The 1956 team champion faltered in its bid to repeat last night in the American Bowling Congress tournament.

Falstaff Beer of Chicago shot a disappointing 2893, not even good enough for a spot in the top 10. Another Chicago team, Peter Hand Reserve Beer, leads the open division with 3126 posted March 18.

The star-studded Falstaffs won last year's ABC crown with 3092. Ronnie Jones and Joe Meszaros shot the eighth highest two-man series in the 54-year history of the tournament yesterday to sweep into the doubles lead. They had a 3-game total of 1369.

Leon Barton of Lebanon, Ind., rolled a 716 for second place in the singles.

WALT LEWIS' 538 on games of 162, 163, 193 led American Federation League keglers. Doug Kennedy fired 518 and L. Brown had 502.

Team results:
Fair Street No. 1 (1), St. James 2; Trinity Lutheran No. 1 (1), Unknowns 2; Comforter No. 1 (3), Clinton Ave. No. 1 (0).

A NINE-STRIKE LOW? WELL THEN, HEAR THIS

"I read with interest about the lowest possible game with nine strikes," Alan Alexander, secretary of the Long Beach (Calif.) Bowling Association wrote the American Bowling Congress. "I have held, hidden within my soul, the game I rolled at Virginia Bowl just after they opened."

Alexander then told about the league game in which he had 10 strikes and only a 185 score. He opened with six in a row... then fouled four consecutive times, each time while knocking down all 10 pins.

This is worse than the ABC's hypothetical example of a possible low of 120 with nine strikes, because it actually happened. Of course, technically Alexander was credited with only six strikes, because the other four were fouls. But the man did knock all those pins ten times didn't he?

Without trying to penetrate into the inner recesses of the jury's minds at the Kingston Basketball Tournament, it would appear there are six stickout candidates for the coveted Most Valuable Player award.

This year it will be in the form of the first annual Hank Krum Memorial and the jury that faithfully attended all the games and taken copious mental notes will have no easy decision to make Saturday night.

The half dozen candidates include Gary Holoway, Phil Spencer, Ed Kolokowski, the 1956 MVP, Frank Koenig, George Carpozis and the fabulous Ted Dwyer, who has averaged 41 points in three games. This is strictly a guess, mind you, but we think the 1957 MVP will come from among Kolokowski, Dwyer and Holoway. Their relative performances tomorrow night will have an important bearing on the final decision. Those decisions never come easily as attorney John Larkin, former perennial member of "the jury" will attest.

Flotsam and Jetsam:

Kingston basketball made its best showing in several years in the current tournament. The Kingston Stars were tremendous. Some observers think they reverted to defensive tactics a bit too early against Sickler's. They had them down 13 points at one stage of the fourth quarter and some of the railbirds figure they should have maintained their offensive momentum. . . . If George Carpozis isn't the MVP, he is certainly the Comeback Kid of the year. . . . There was a large hue and cry when George Bruda of Sickler's turned in a defensive masterpiece on the ex-Marine a year ago, but this time around George proved he is still one of the great shooters in the average with a 93 points in three games—a cool 31-per average. He had sprees of 25-33-25. . . . Burt Streeter of the YMCA, the statistical historian of the KBT, assures us that Gary Holoway's 20-point third quarter is an all-time record for the tourney. . . . Holoway was a slight sensation with Albany State Teachers College this season.

Of Men and Mice:

Perhaps the biggest surprise of the tournament was the quick fadeout of the Economy Cleaners of Newburgh. . . . Delegates representing 48 states, Canada, Panama and Mexico will attend the second annual National Congress of Little League Baseball at Chicago on April 11-12-13. . . . In total they will represent more than 4200 leagues and the interests of more than 700,000 boys who play Little League ball. . . . The Pancho Gonzales-Ken Rosewall professional tennis tour makes an Albany stop Sunday at 3 p. m. at the Albany Armory. . . . The Governor, N. Y. varsity basketball team coached by Frank La Falce, formerly of Highland High, and the Jayvee team, piloted by Lem Atkins of New Paltz, captured the championships in their respective divisions of the Northern New York State Basketball League. . . . Atkins' Jayvees compiled a 16-1 record.

Earlier in the basketball season, before Columbia's Chet Forte started burning up the Ivy League, Howard G. Cann, the NYU basketball coach named his all-time Met basketball team based on nearly 50 years of observation. Cann picked only one NYU star, Ray Lumm; Dick McGuire (St. John's); Red Holzman, CCNY; Ed Conlin (Fordham) and Art Hillhouse (LIU). Hillhouse stands 6-7, Conlin 6-6, Lumm and McGuire six feet, Holzman 5-11. Wonder if he would replace one of his choices with Forte?

Harry Grayson picked this one up in Florida. Bing Crosby appeared at a Pirates' exhibition game to see what he is getting for his $250,000 interest this season. Crosby, gaily decked out, doesn't see many games, but he follows the big leagues closely in the papers.

"Listen on the radio, too," he was saying. "I caught Dizzy Dean and Buddy Blatner doing the TV Game-of-the-Day. They were commenting on Ted Kluszewski's muscles."

"Blatner said he thought Jeff Heath was the only player he could recall with muscles like Klus's. You could see Dean nodding in agreement. Then Blatner said Klus reminded him of Gargantua."

"Dean scratched his head, stammered a bit and then in all seriousness, spoke up. "That Gargantua was before my time!"

British Milers Set 3:55 Goal

London, April 4 (AP)—Two British Olympic runners agreed today to run a mile race that many experts predict will bring the dream clocking of 3:55.

Ken Wood and Derek Ibbotson are the runners poised for that amazing time—three seconds faster than John Landy's outdoor world record and 8.6 seconds faster than the best time indoors by Denmark's Gunner Nielsen, made in the United States.

The race will be run at Manchester's indoor stadium April 17. There are no internationally recognized world records for indoor racing.

Lowest First Day Score

Jackie Burke Undisturbed By Masters' Repeat 'Jinx'

Augusta, Ga., April 5 (AP)—Jackie Burke Jr. is a steel-eyed Texan who laughs at the jinx that Masters champions never repeat.

"I don't let that stuff bother me," the boyish-looking 34-year-old Houston professional said after shooting the only sub-par round—a 71—of the 101 fairway stars who took a crack at the Augusta National course yesterday.

The score, incidentally, was the highest ever to lead the Masters event on opening day.

Today Burke tries to defend his slender lead—one stroke over five players, two strokes over eight others and only three ahead of another cluster of 13—but it's sure these challengers never faced a cooler calculator.

"I hear the Masters champion never repeats," Jackie said. "Certainly, I know that others were favored, such as Ben Hogan and Cary Middlecoff. They should be, on their records."

"But never once did I think about these things. Not once did I feel any pressure of being a champion trying to win again. I found out long ago that there's enough to think about trying to whip a golf course."

Beat the Course

"So there's just one thing in my mind. I go out there to beat the course, to play the best possible golf I can. Then if that isn't good enough, it's just too bad."

If Jackie were the type to get concerned, Middlecoff, the National Open champion, and Hogan, one of the great golfers of our era, wouldn't be on his "worry" list. Middlecoff, missing six putts of under three feet, soared to a 79. Hogan shot a 76.

Closest on Jackie's heels going into the second day's play were two menacing young Australians, British Open champion Peter Thomson and Bruce Crampton; Jimmy Demaret of Kiamasha Lake, N. Y., and Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, West Va., each seeking his fourth Masters title; and the old workhorse of the pro tour, Doug Ford of Mahopac, N. Y., former champion of the Professional Golfers Assn. and the year's leading money winner. All had par 72s.

Par for the 6,980-yard Augusta course is 36-36-72. Tied at 73 were an international assortment of seasoned pros—Britain's Henry Cotton, Canada's Al Balding, Ed Furgol, Arnold Palmer, Jerry Barber, Skeet Riegel and Bud Ward—and the reigning National Amateur champion, Harvie Ward Jr. of San Francisco.

Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill., was par for 17 holes before stopping because of darkness and needed only a par four on the final hole to fall into the 72 group. A birdie would give him a tie with Burke for the first round lead.

Fred Haas of New Orleans, playing with Marty Furgol (no relation to Ed), decided to finish in semi-darkness and came in with 74. Furgol and Tony Manero, who also didn't finish, planned to complete their rounds before the official start at 9:18 a. m. (EST) of today's second round.

Abandoned Auto Thought Stolen

A car found abandoned against a pole near the railroad trestle at Wilbur and Greenkill avenues was apparently one stolen from Broadway and West O'Reilly street, a police report said last night.

Officers Everett Emmick and Benjamin Osterhoudt reported finding the car against the pole shortly after 11 p. m., and were attempting to locate the owner, when, at 11:53 p. m., Candelaro Vanditti, of 46 Washington avenue, reported it stolen while he was in the American Legion building on West O'Reilly street.

The car had been taken from where it was found by the officers to the city hall parking area and was turned over to its owner.

Held in Car Theft

Richard Edward Smith, 16, of Hopewell, Va., was arrested at 9:45 p. m. Thursday in Borden-town, N. J., by Ellenville state police on a charge of first degree grand larceny. Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Frank Muller, town of Wawarsing, Smith waived examination, was held for the grand jury and committed to the Ulster county jail. He was arrested for the alleged theft of an automobile from Nevele Country Club, Ellenville, on April 2, troopers said.

Firearm Charge

Michael Burke, 56, of Box 35B, High Falls, was arrested Thursday at 7:30 p. m. by Kingston state police and charged with illegal possession of a firearm. Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Millard T. Davis, town of Ulster, Burke waived examination, was held for the grand jury and committed to the Ulster county jail.

Think It Through

By E. F. HUTTON
TAKING CARE OF UNCLE

Ever had an old relative to support? Most of us have done it willingly when needed. But when Uncle starts living higher on your hog by buying fancy neckties and perfume, what then? Well, Uncle down Washington way, wants 72 billion bucks for his comfortable support. Says he can't do on less.

You start figuring. It comes to 417 $'s for each, including the young 'uns. For a family of four, that's 1,668 $'s a year, 139 $'s a month. Sweating out your Income tax return, and thinking of the Withholding tax, and the Excise tax and Corporation taxes which you pay, in addition to the cost of everything, you reckon that Uncle could live on less.

So you take Uncle aside. "Look here, you old fool, ain't you a-going sorta high and handsome these days? Mr. Hoover says you wouldn't go naked if you cut out them fancy neckties. And I'd save 10 per cent on my Income taxes, which I and the wife could use. Have you forgot what you promised at the San Francisco Convention?"

"But," says Uncle, "I've taken on two billion more folks to look after in Asia and Africa. So they'll love you."

"Tell that to the National Guard," you say.

"That reminds me of Charlie Wilson," says Uncle. "He's got an external combustion engine."

"I've got worse than that," says you. "I've got a mad wife!"
